Thousands Battle Fires In Forests Of E. Nova Scotia

No Rain In Sight As 12-Mile Wall Of Flame Uncontrolled

By BRITISH UNITED PRESS

Thousands of weary firefighters continued their non-stop struggle today to halt forest fires in 12 separate areas of eastern Nova Scotia in a supreme effort to stave off disaster for the province's multimillion-dollar lumber industry.

A 12-mile wall of flame bore down towards the coast from picturesque Como Lake to the Halifax-Colchester County border, as the largest blaze rages out of control through dense forest country.

A wind shift Wednesday night checked the fire's surge toward the little town of Sheet Harbor on the coast, 50 miles northeast of Halifax, but the fire continued to eat its way through forest lands further north.

Fog blanketed the threatened area this morning, making it more difficult for the firefighters to stem the resurgent flames. No rain was in sight for the province for the next 24 hours, weathermen said.

More than 2,000 men were thrown into the battle on a 60-mile perimeter north of Halifax this morning, many rushed by all available planes and trucks to the threatened areas Wednesday.

In the path of the main blaze was the Liscomb Game Sanctuary. Frightened deer in the sanctuary, smelling the smoke from the blaze still far off, scampered toward the other end of the reserve.

Japan's Reds Call General Protest Strike

TOKYO (AP)—Openly defiant, Japan's Communist Party today ordered a general strike Saturday in reprisal for the occupation's rush trial of eight Japanese accused of kicking and stoning United States soldiers.

The strike call promised to bring to a head growing tension between Gen. MacArthur's occupation forces and the belligerent Communists.

This tension, fueled by recent international Communist charges that the Japanese Reds were too docile, erupted Tuesday—U.S. Memorial Day—in the first physical violence of the occupation against U.S. troops.

A captain and four soldiers, observers at a Communist anti-American rally in downtown Imperial Plaza, were kicked, beaten and stoned. Only a few hours earlier, authorities had expelled the Communists from the Plaza to permit Americans to hold Memorial Day services for their war dead.

MacArthur, in a May 2 speech, urged the Japanese to defend their new constitutional liberties against the "international political perfidy" of Communism. He suggested the possibility of outlawing Japan's Communist Party.

Mental Case Stabs Officer, Is Shot Down

NEW WESTMINSTER (BUP)—A fear-crazed mental patient and a policeman assigned to take him to a mental home both were in hospital today, climaxing a car automobile chase in which the officer was stabbed and the patient shot.

Provincial Police Constable E. Hallam, 25, was stabbed twice with a 10-inch knife which the mental patient wielded Wednesday night after three policemen and a doctor had set out to claim to hospital.

Police said both would recover. The patient from a knife wound and Hallam from gashes in his back and

Charge Soviet Flier Boasted Of Air Victory

BERLIN (AP)—The United States High Commission newspaper Neue Zeitung claimed today that a Soviet fighter pilot, during the East Berlin Communist youth rally, had described the loss of a United States navy Privateer plane in the Baltic as "the first air victory."

The paper said the legless Soviet ace, Alexei Meresyev, made the remark "under the influence of numerous vodkas" at a party at the House of Soviet Culture in the Eastern Zone.

"An hour later he was taken away by the MVD (Soviet security police)," the paper said. Meresyev spoke Wednesday, however, at youth ceremonies in East Berlin.

The U.S. Navy patrol plane with 10 men aboard disappeared April 8. The U.S. charged that Russia fighters shot down the plane. The Russians said a U.S. plane penetrated Russian territory, fired on Russian fighters and fled seaward when the fire was returned.

West German Red Youths Abandon Sitdown Strike

LUEBECK, Germany (AP)—Ten thousand sleepy Communist youths, marooned for two nights just inside the Soviet zone, started moving toward their West-German homes today after calling off their sit-down strike.

The blue-shirted boys and girls accepted West German police demands that they give their names or submit to medical examinations before crossing the border.

They had been camping in the chilly border "no man's land," refusing to heed the police orders, since Tuesday night when they reached the East-West zonal frontier after attending the Communist Whitsun rally in Berlin.

The weary youths capitulated after a sleepless night during which they piled their straw bedding on to camp fires in an attempt to keep warm. This morning they shuffled past lines of police and watchful German doctors who gave them a quick look-over for any possible contagious diseases contracted in their crowded Berlin quarters.

Police said doctors found no illness among the youths.

Elsewhere along the East-West zonal frontier all was quiet.

U.S. Newsman Flees Czechs

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times reported today that the newspaper's Prague correspondent, Dana Adams Schmidt, had left Czechoslovakia to avoid arrest.

Schmidt was among a score of westerners named in the treason trial of 13 Czechs as having aided in setting up an anti-Communist underground ring aimed at overthrowing the government. Before he left Prague Schmidt filed a story in which he denied knowing any of the underground plotters with whom he was accused of being in contact.

The Times said Schmidt left Czechoslovakia for West Germany a few hours before he was to have been arrested.

Ontario Takes Stand On Toronto Gambling Issue

TORONTO (CP)—Controversy between Toronto municipal and Ontario provincial government officials arose over the gambling situation in Toronto.

Provincial Secretary Welsh contradicted Mayor Hiram McCallum over the matter of the Ontario government granting charters to clubs. The mayor had stated that at least six professional gambling syndicates are operating in Toronto and intimated city police were hamstrung in the matter of clubs operating under provincial charters.

To Mayor McCallum's claim that the city had repeatedly protested the granting of provincial charters to groups known to be linked with gambling syndicates, Mr. Welsh said this simply was not true. On the contrary, the Ontario cabinet minister said, his department had co-operated closely with the Toronto police department for the specific purpose of preventing gambling in incorporated clubs.

Mayor McCallum said that Mr. Welsh's statement was rather surprising. "His information conflicts with information in possession of the Toronto police commission and which I have personally," said the mayor. "If Mr. Welsh is available I am going to invite him to the next police commission meeting so he can examine our information personally."

Writer Jailed For Hotel Bill

GEORGETOWN, Del., (UP)—Ursula Parrott, four-times-wed novelist, was held in jail here today refusing to return to Maryland to face charges of running out on a $225 hotel bill.

Maryland authorities, however, prepared extradition papers to return her to Princess Anne, Md., where she was accused of walking out of the George Washington Hotel without paying her six-months' bill.

The 47-year-old author, whose novels, "Ex-Wife" and "Strangers May Kiss" skyrocketed her to fame in the early '30's, was arrested at nearby Delair last Tuesday as she was about to board a train bound for New York.

JAPAN ASKS FOR TREATIES

TOKYO (AP)—Japan formally expressed the desire today to sign peace treaties with all countries "willing to accord it independence and equality."

The Foreign Office said Japan "fully possesses the necessary qualifications" for a formal peace treaty but has failed to obtain one because of the U.S.-Russian split.

ADMISSION OF CHINESE REDS TO U.N. SURE

U.S. Officials Say Change May Come Before Next Fall

WASHINGTON (UP)—High U.S. officials are conceding privately that the seating of Communist China in the United Nations is only a matter of time.

They acknowledge that the Red regime from Peiping may take over China's seat before the U.N. General Assembly meets next September.

Foreign diplomats here are convinced the question will be decided in the Security Council, where five member nations—two short of the required majority of seven—already recognize the Chinese Communists.

These quarters believe that Egypt and Ecuador, both Security Council members, are "good bets" to extend recognition to Peiping and thus end the deadlock.

There have been reports in recent weeks that Egypt was leaning toward recognition. Ecuador once proposed that the Communists be seated temporarily, pending a vote by the General Assembly. The proposal was later withdrawn but it at least indicates the South American state is not strongly opposed to Chinese Communist participation in U.N. activities.

Secretary of State Dean Acheson re-emphasized America's hands-off position when he again told members of Congress Wednesday the United States would not veto admission of the Chinese Reds. This has been the historic U.S. position.

Fear Reds Seize Danish Fishboats

COPENHAGEN (UP) — Two Danish fishing vessels are believed to have been captured by the Russians in the Baltic Sea, the Danish Foreign Ministry said today.

The ministry said a Danish cutter reported receiving a cryptic radio message from the trawler Valkyrien Tuesday night saying: "We have been captured by the Russians."

The ministry said the Christian Soemund, which was with the Valkyrien at the time of the reported capture, also was assumed to have been seized.

Women Parlay $248 Into Big Guernsey Herd

CHALVINGTON, Sussex, Eng. (CP)—Three English spinsters parlayed an £80 ($248) investment into one of England's greatest herds of Guernsey dairy cattle.

The herd has just been dispersed in the greatest Guernsey sale Britain has ever known. Thirty-six head brought £48,216 ($149,469), for an average of £1,339 ($4,150).

The Misses Margaret and Avril Andrews and Miss Janet Spencer were in their 20s when they founded their herd with the purchase for £80 of the Bull Rose Lad 2nd of Maple Lodge.

Last year Miss Avril Andrews died. Death duties were heavy and the spinsters decided to sell the farm.

A crowd of 3,000 attended the sale to watch S. C. Gilchrist pay a record price of £2,200 ($6,800); for nine-year-old Chalvington Primrose Bloom.

Then two women — perhaps figuring they can duplicate the feat of the selling spinsters — topped that figure with £2,730 for five-year-old Beauty's Honoria.

Lord Beaverbrook was among the purchases, paying a record price of £2,625 for a yearling Guernsey bull.

At the end of the sale two Guernseys were unsold. One was 17-year-old Beauty of Bassieres, who has yielded 6 tons of milk in her time.

"She is really the matron of the herd," said Miss Andrews. "We could not find it in our hearts to part with her."

Tells Congress Delay Blow To Peace Hopes

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman today asked Congress to provide $1,222,500,000 for a second year of the arms aid program.

He said delay in supplying the money might "strike a fatal blow at all our efforts to create the kind of peace which the free world seeks and would lessen our chances of continuing to live and work in freedom."

The fund would finance arms shipments to more than a dozen foreign nations, including Atlantic Pact allies, during the fiscal year beginning next July 1.

The $1,222,500,000 requested by Mr. Truman is slightly less than the $1,314,010,000 which Congress appropriated last year to help 13 nations rearm against Communism.

Mr. Truman made the request in his first semi-annual report to Congress on the handling of the first year's program, which began last fall.

Backing up his request, Mr. Truman said:

"The momentum already gained must under no circumstances be lost, because, once lost, it is doubtful that it can ever be recaptured at any cost."

The President did not specify the exact number of countries which would share in the U.S. arms aid program.

U.S. Plane Crash Kills Nine Men

QUONSET, R.I. (AP)—Nine men were killed and two injured in the crash of a U.S. Navy plane today at the Quonset naval air base.

The nine were burned to death when a patrol plane crashed and burned on a runway, the navy said.

Commander Glasgow of the public information office reported the pilot and co-pilot escaped with only minor injuries. The remainder of the crew was trapped in the wreckage.

Second Plane With Aid From Britain

LONDON (Reuter) — The British Overseas Airways Corporation stratocruiser Caledonia took off from London airport at noon today with its second load of relief supplies for Winnipeg's flood victims.

The plane, due to arrive at Winnipeg at 11 a.m., C.D.T., tomorrow, carried 11 tons of bedding, curtains, towels and other household equipment—believed to be the biggest single cargo of freight ever flown across the Atlantic.

Russia Urges Trial Of Hirohito

MOSCOW (AP)—Russia is pressing the United States and Britain for an answer to a Russian note demanding the trial of Japanese Emperor Hirohito as a war criminal.

Though no formal reply has been made to the February note, the U.S. State Department in a statement Feb. 3 attacked the Russian demand as a smoke screen designed to cover up Soviet failure to repatriate or otherwise explain the fate of more than 370,000 Japanese prisoners detained in Russian-held territory.

Memorial Cross

SCOPUICK, Lincolnshire, Eng. (CP)—A cross of remembrance was dedicated today to the memory of airmen buried in the Scopuick village churchyard. More than 50 aircrew were buried here, including 37 officers and other ranks who were members of the R.C.A.F.

ASKS HOUSING MONEY

Commons To Hear About Plans Of Government

OTTAWA (BUP)—The government is expected to announce today what it plans to do about the national housing shortage.

Resources and Development Minister Robert H. Winters went before the Commons at its first morning sitting of the session to ask for appropriations of $47,951,588 for the current year, nearly $20,000,000 more than it wanted in 1949.

Housing is Mr. Winters' big responsibility in his newly-formed department. His office of resources and development was carved out of two old departments early this year, those of mines and resources and reconstruction and supply.

Latest government housing bulletins steered clear of putting any exact figure on the number of housing units required to meet the nation's demand. However, the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, the Crown-owned housing authority, said new construction in the past 12 months finally had shown an increase over the number of fresh demands.

Canon Coleman Ponders Offer Of Bishopric

CANON MICHAEL COLEMAN

Conan Michael Coleman, Anglican rector of Cowichan and Quamichan, has asked for two weeks to consider acceptance of the position of sixth Bishop of Qu'Appelle.

The 45-year-old churchman was elected to the post Wednesday at one of the largest synods ever assembled in Saskatchewan. The synod has been meeting in Regina.

Very Rev. William Cole, dean of Qu'Appelle, adjourned the synod pending Canon Coleman's decision.

If he accepts, he will succeed Rt. Rev. E. H. Knowles, who retired as bishop April 30.

Canon Coleman came to Canada in 1927 on a tour with Rev. T. B. Clayton of London, Eng. They were associated with the "Toc H," a spiritual movement which grew out of the First World War.

He served as lecturer and canon missioner of the Diocese of British Columbia until he took up his present post early this year.

Canon Coleman is married and has three children.

Fights Rabid Dog, Saving Children

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—A taxicab driver, father of five children, wrestled with an apparently mad dog to save a group of 82 terrified kindergarten pupils.

Twenty-eight-year-old Rick Parker spotted the dog, running wildly and foaming at the mouth, as he drove past the school Wednesday. Classes were changing and the youngsters were on the grounds.

The cab driver threw his car into reverse and put it between the mongrel dog and the children. He shouted at a patroling policewoman to get the children inside.

Then the dog darted around the cab and Parker flung himself upon it. As the children watched from windows, he wrestled the dog down the street. A youth in the neighborhood finally killed the dog with a rifle. Parker was bitten on one hand and was given an anti-rabies shot.

Duncan Canon Ponders Prairie Bishopric Offer

Canon Michael Coleman, Anglican rector of Cowichan and Quamichan, will likely reply within a few days to an offer to become the sixth Bishop of Qu'Appelle.

He came from his Duncan home today and conferred with Bishop Harold Sexton of the diocese of British Columbia for more than an hour.

The 45-year-old churchman was elected in Regina to the post Wednesday at one of the largest synods ever assembled in Saskatchewan.

"Canon Coleman was very surprised to hear of his election. He did not even know his name was up. Naturally, he wants some time to think it over," Bishop Sexton said following their meeting today.

APPROPRIATE CHOICE

He added: "Canon Coleman, being a man of ready speech and boundless energy, seems to be the most appropriate choice for this missionary diocese."

If the canon accepts the offer to become one of Canada's 27 bishops, he will succeed Rt. Rev. E. H. Knowles, who retired as bishop April 30. The synod has been adjourned pending a reply to its offer.

Canon Coleman is a graduate of Lincoln Theological College, England. He came to Canada in 1927 on a tour with Rev. T. B. Clayton of London. They were associated with "Toc H," a spiritual movement which grew out of the First World War. Prior to coming to this country, he was assistant priest at All Hallows' Church, Barking, London.

He served as lecturer and canon missioner of the Diocese of British Columbia until appointed to the Cowichan-Quamichan post last fall. He has not been officially inducted by the bishop.

Canon Coleman is married and has three children.

Man Risks Life To Save Pigs As His Barn Burns

SMITHS FALLS, Ont. (CP)—Newman Edwards saved four pigs when fire destroyed two barns on his farm on the outskirts of this eastern Ontario town.

Edwards dashed into the flaming barn, made his way out with one of the pigs and then dashed in to rescue the three others. Two men, part of a district fire brigade, attempted to hold Edwards, but were driven back by the intense heat and flames. However, Edwards managed to escape before the structure was completely enveloped by the flames.

The fire, Wednesday night, blamed on faulty electrical wiring, caused damage estimated at $2,000.

Patients Removed As Building Near Hospital On Fire

MONTREAL (CP)—Fire broke out today in a six-story building next to the Chinese Hospital on Lagauchtiere Street and evacuation of patients was hurriedly begun.

The fire broke out on the sixth floor of the building used by manufacturing industries and flames shot through the roof high into the air. Smoke filled the district.

The building is near the heart of Chinatown where a fire two months ago took eight lives.

Fire trucks and ambulances jammed the crowded area of narrow streets.

Stretcher cases were carried from the hospital to the ambulances.

HUSH-HUSH CONFERENCE ON DEFENCE OF ARCTIC

OTTAWA (BUP)—Top Canadian, British and U.S. defence experts were closeted here today at an ultra-secret conference.

The meeting was so hush hush that none of the countries would confirm that it was taking place.

However, it was learned that the defence experts were discussing army Arctic equipment. It was further in-camera meeting by the three powers in connection with the standardization of military equipment.

Informed sources said the experts were discussing the performance of army equipment used during Arctic manoeuvres last winter. Arctic clothing used for the first time on these manoeuvres, including nylon fur suits, was also being examined.

It was expected the meeting would make a secret report to each of the three governments following the meeting.

The U.S. Army was represented by Sir Hubert Wilkins, world-famous Arctic and Antarctic explorer. The Canadian representative was Col. R. L. Franklin, director of vehicle development for the Canadian Army.

Military attaches of the United Kingdom and the United States were also attending the meeting.

DOUKS IMPRISONED RISE TO 229 TOTAL

Of 46 Newly Arrested, 27 Were Nude On Road; Police Turned Back 100 Others, Also Naked

NELSON (CP)—Authorities in British Columbia now have 229 Doukhobors in custody for nude parading and arson.

When disturbances in two of the strange sect's strongholds were quelled Wednesday 46 were added to the total.

Of the arrests, 27 were made by provincial police at Glade, 18 miles south of here, and 19 at Gilpin, 65 miles southwest of this city.

The Sons of Freedom arrested at Glade were lined naked along the Trans-Provincial Highway, shocking motorists.

Police also reported trouble at Krestova, headquarters of the Sons of Freedom and about 230 miles east of Vancouver. There, 100 Doukhobors attempted a protest March on Nelson but were persuaded to put on their clothes and return home. They had traveled two miles.

The present series of arrests started some months ago when "Sons" launched a campaign of burnings in which they destroyed buildings of their own and public schools.

The total of 229 is described as the greatest since a large number of Doukhobors were sentenced some years ago and imprisoned on Piers Island, off the head of the Saanich Peninsula.

Rain At Cranbrook

CRANBROOK (CP) — Two months of almost unbreakable drought ended here when winds gave way to heavy rain. There was also a splatter of snow mixed with the rain and temperatures were in the high 40s.

9 Die As U.S. Patrol Plane Crashes, Burns

QUONSET, R.I. (AP)—Nine men were killed and two injured in the crash of a U.S. Navy plane today at the Quonset naval air base.

The nine were burned to death when a patrol plane crashed and burned on a runway, the navy said.

Commander Glasgow of the public information office reported the pilot and co-pilot escaped with only minor injuries. The remainder of the crew was trapped in the wreckage.

The navy public information office in Boston reported that the big Neptune bomber took off with nine passengers, a pilot and a co-pilot and that, 23 minutes after the takeoff, it returned with one engine afire and dead.

The pilot said the plane developed engine trouble and that one engine burst into flames when nearing Quonset.

The plane was reported en route from Jacksonville, Fla., to Newfoundland.

The pilot attempted an emergency landing in what was described as limited visibility.

The navy reported the plane was caught in a cross wind in landing and was tipped over on its back.

The pilot and co-pilot were pulled out alive.

More Federal Work If Provinces Sign Pacts

Proposed Dominion Expenditures To Yield Many Jobs In Housing, Highway Building

OTTAWA (CP)—Reconstruction Minister Winters said today in the Commons that 1950-51 proposed expenditures of his department will provide employment in all provinces if the provincial governments enter into agreements on such things as housing and construction of the Trans-Canada Highway.

He made the statement as members studied his department's estimates at the first morning sitting of the session. The sitting marked the inauguration of a drive toward prorogation.

Nova Scotia, Newfoundland and Quebec have not yet entered into agreements with the federal government on the construction of the Trans-Canada Highway. Mr. Winters' estimates include an amount of $20,000,000 to be paid out this year toward the cost of the $300,000,000 highway, scheduled to be built over a seven-year period. The federal government has undertaken to pay half of the cost.

No province has yet concluded an agreement with the federal government on housing projects. These would include the purchase and servicing of land suitable for housing, the construction of houses for sale and the construction of houses for rent at a low or subsidized rate. The federal government would pay 75 per cent of the cost of such projects and the provinces the remainder.

Mayhew Hopes For Sterling Group Orders

VANCOUVER (CP)—A reverse of the dollar-pound exchange situation may mean new, long-awaited orders from sterling area countries, Fisheries Minister R. W. Mayhew said ttoday.

Mr. Mayhew, who climaxed a 56,000-mile, five-month world tour with an economic conference in Australia, said everywhere he went people asked him when they would be able to buy Canadian goods.

"I told them they can get them any time their government puts up the dollars," he said.

He indicated those dollars now appear to be available in greater abundance due to the tremendous sales of sterling area goods in Canada.

"Canada's position has changed materially in the past year," he said. "We were selling a great deal more to the sterling area than they were selling us. The proportion was about one-third to two-thirds. Now that situation has reversed itself.

"British Columbia industries, pulp and paper and lumber, will certainly benefit from this trend."

President Of France Plans Visit To U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Auriol of France will visit the United States next March.

DOCTOR LOSES

Responsible For Sponge In Patient

OTTAWA (CP)—The Supreme Court of Canada in a unanimous judgement today ruled a surgeon must accept responsibility for ensuring sponges or swabs used during an operation are removed.

The ruling was made in a judgement dismissing the appeal of Dr. William E. Chasney, Winnipeg, from a Manitoba Court of Appeal judgment which awarded James William Anderson, Winnipeg, $3,250 and costs for the death of his son.

The court unanimously dismissed the appeal with costs.

The case arose from a tonsillectomy and adenoidectomy performed on five-year-old James William Anderson by Dr. Chasney at St. Joseph's Hospital, Winnipeg, June 4, 1947.

The court was told that during the operation one or more gauze sponges were inserted in the naso-pharynx and one was left there at the conclusion of the operation. This sponge, evidence showed, escaped into the windpipe causing death by suffocation.

Beaches Busier As June Arrives In Sunshine

The swing is to summer activities as Old Sol continues to beam down on Victoria—and summer play takes place largely at the numerous beaches in this area. This group of youngsters at Willows Beach playground will soon be joined by additional throngs—for it is June and schools will soon be out for two long-awaited months of freedom from textbooks.

Committee To Consider Control Of Devastating Chicken Disease

A special committee of provincial government inspectors, university researchers, poultry producers and hatchery men, is being set up by Agriculture Minister Harry Bowman to deal with the dread Newcastle disease, presently threatening B.C.'s poultry industry.

The committee is scheduled to hold its first meeting Saturday.

Members will discuss and plan methods for eradicating the virus infection which to date has led to the slaughter of more than 300,000 chickens.

161 FLOCKS DESTROYED

A total of 161 flocks on the lower mainland and on Vancouver Island, have been destroyed in attempts to stop the disease from spreading.

Producers whose flocks have been wiped out receive government compensation for the full value of their flocks and for their estimated production.

A new outbreak of Newcastle was reported on the island today. The fourth island case was discovered at Wellington. The flock was immediately destroyed.

Previous island cases were at Nanaimo, Ladysmith and Honeymoon Bay.

Representatives of the Lower Vancouver Island Poultry Producers' Association, the Vancouver Island Turkey Improvement Association and the Vancouver Island Poultry Co-operative Association are scheduled to meet with Agriculture Minister Bowman Friday afternoon to discuss the disease as it affects the island.

OLD FOE

Newcastle disease is an old foe of poultrymen but this is the first time British Columbia ranchers have had to contend with it.

The disease was discovered more than 20 years ago in Europe. Fifteen years ago it spread to the United States.

First case in North America occurred in California about 12 years ago. Ontario and Manitoba are the only other Canadian provinces to have been hit by Newcastle. In each case, the disease was eradicated by the slaughter and disinfectant system now employed in B.C.

Narcotic In Jail

VANCOUVER (CP) — Police said today they will launch an investigation to discover how a prisoner in the city jail happened to have a hypodermic syringe containing narcotics in his possession. The vial was discovered in a cell yesterday.

Mrs. Nancy Hodges To Newfoundland

Mrs. Nancy Hodges, Speaker of the Provincial Legislature, will represent British Columbia at St. John's City's Newfoundland Day celebration to be held June 24, it was announced today by the Premier's office.

Mrs. Hodges will be in Ottawa next week, attending a convention of the Canadian Federation of Liberal Women, of which she is president, and also a meeting of the advisory council of the National Liberal Association.

She will return to this city from Ottawa before making the journey to Canada's new east coast province.

BRITISH LABOR UNEASY

Many Industries Suffer By Wildcat Stoppages

LONDON (Reuter)—Five wildcat strikes today were causing costly delays in London's docks, railway, power and building industries.

A total of more than 1,000 men were idle in the five stoppages:

1. More than 250 lightermen who man the small boats in the Thames are on strike in protest against dismissal of 91 men who, in turn, were fired for striking in support of 14 men suspended. The 14 had refused to work overtime. Several lighters and barges are idle in the port of London.

2. Five hundred men are on strike on London's Festival of Britain site, on the south bank of the Thames, as a protest against the employment of two non-union men.

3. More than 250 drivers and van guards are out at a railway goods depot in South London because they object to the promotion of a cartage foreman to inspector. They say another man, who has been there longer, should have the job.

4. Eighty-five electricians and laborers show no signs of ending their month-old strike at the vast Croydon power station, on the outskirts of London. Work on the power station is held up because of a dispute over the dismissal of a union official at the plant.

5. Forty carpenters have stopped work on government offices in the centre of London, because of a quarrel over whether skilled or unskilled men should fix windows.

Tonight more than 4,000 London taxi drivers are to decide whether to call an unofficial strike to support their demand for an increase of one shilling and fourpence on their present commission of six shilling and eightpence in the pound.

To Combine Insurance, Annuities

OTTAWA (CP)—A plan for combining unemployment insurance and government annuities into a contributory old-age security plan was suggested today by Arthur MacNamara, Deputy Minister of Labor.

Mr. MacNamara was appearing before the joint parliamentary committee on old-age security.

He said the best system might be the British plan, under which everyone contributes, but this could not be brought about overnight.

The answer might be this combination plan:

1. A contributory system for those insured under the Unemployment Insurance Act, with employees, employers and the federal govrnment contributing.

2. Extension of the annuities system for the self-employed.

In the case of annuities, he said, the pension could be brought to the same basis as for the other group by cheapening the cost of limited annuities to the purchaser.

As seen by Mr. MacNamara, to qualify for an old-age pension under the insurance plan, a person would have to contribute an average of 40 weekly payments for each year from the start of the plan or a maximum of 400 contributions, whichever was less.

Meanwhile the Deputy Minister of Health said Ontario agreed last year that she should tighten up her administration of certain phases of old-age pensions because some recipients were earning as much as $3,900 a year with boarding houses and still drawing pension.

Dr. G. F. Davidson told the committee that was one of a number of "rather strange results" that turned up last summer in a routine examination by federal examiners of Ontario pension files. There was no order or new regulation issued by Ottawa, he said. Toronto merely agreed that something should be done.

Dr. Davidson gave his statement in reply to queries about Toronto newspaper stories saying thousands of pensioners may be affected by the change.

Weather In May Abnormal, Reports Gonzales Official

May weather was abnormal here.

Month's sunshine output in hours fell two short of the normal May reading, William Burton, superintendent of the Gonzales Meteorological Observatory, reported today. May's total was 270 hours.

Last month's precipitation was also abnormal, but most Victorians will not complain in this regard as it was below average. Only .71 inch was recorded on the rain catcher, while average is .98 inch.

Total precipitation since Jan. 1 is still well above normal, however. Over the five-month period, 14.46 inches of rain, sleet, hail or snow have been recorded. Usual reading at this time of the year is 11.72 inches.

May's mean temperature—51 degrees—was two degrees below normal. Month's maximum mercury reading was 71 degrees and the lowest, 39.

Pastor Who Differs With Church Resigns

PETERBOROUGH, Ont. (CP)—The resignation of Rev. W. N. Crandall of Bethany, Ont., as a United Church of Canada minister was accepted today at a meeting of the church's Bay of Quinte Conference. It will be effective June 30.

Mr. Crandall recently refused to baptize infants on grounds there is no Scriptural authority for the practice.

A change in the vows taken during United Church ordination ceremonies was suggested Wednesday and it was generally believed the proposal was linked with the Crandall case.

ONE WOMAN'S DAY

By NANCY HODGES

LIQUOR AND LICENSES

IN THE LIGHT of Victoria's recent preoccupation with the question of the provision of facilities for the sale of beer by the glass in licensed premises, I found it more than usually timely to read some of the parliamentary debates in The Gentleman's Magazine of the year 1736, to which I alluded in this column yesterday.

For the deliberations in the British House of Commons at that time, on the granting of supply to His Majesty King George II, were concerned largely with the problem of how to reduce the public consumption of liquor—and at the same time not reduce the revenue which accrued from its sale. And the reports as printed in the old magazine remind us again how history repeats itself, and how old the liquor problem is.

J.P.'S PETITION

IT SEEMS that on Feb. 20, 1736, a petition of His Majesty's Justices of the Peace for the County of Middlesex in their general Quarter sessions assembled, was presented to the House and read, setting forth:

"That the drinking of Geneva and other distilled spirituous liquors had for some Years past greatly increased, especially among the People of Inferior Rank, and that the constant and excessive use thereof had already distroyed thousands of His Majesty's Subjects, and rendered great Numbers of others unfit for useful Labour and Service, debauching at the same time their Morals, and driving them into all manner of Vice and Wickedness; and that that pernicious Liquor was then sold, not only by Distillers and Geneva Shops, but many other persons of inferior Trades; by which means Journeymen, Apprentices and Servants were drawn to taste, and by degrees to like, approve and immoderately to drink thereof:

"And that the Petitioners apprehended the publick Welfare and Safety, as well as the Trade of the Nation, would be greatly affected by it, as that Practice was dangerous and mischievous to the Health, Strength, Peace and Morals, and tended greatly to diminish the Labour and Industry of His Majesty's Subjects; and therefore praying that the House would take the Premises into their serious Consideration, and apply such Remedy as the House should judge most proper."

PROPOSED REMEDY

THAT PETITION was duly discussed by the House in committee and the proposed remedy, as embodied in a subsequent resolution, was passed without debate. To remedy the situation set out by the J.P.'s petition, the House recommended that, as "the low price of spirituous liquors was the principle inducement to the excessive and pernicious use thereof, a discouragement should be given by a duty to be laid on all such liquors by retail," and that its sale be restricted to "Persons keeping publick Brandy Shops, Victualling Houses, Coffee Houses, Ale Houses and Innholders, and to such Apothecaries and Surgeons, as should make use of the same by Medicine only."

But when the House resolved itself into a committee of Ways and Means to raise the supply granted to His Majesty several members protested at the size of the proposed duty, claiming that it really amounted to a prohibition upon the retailer of any such spirituous liquors. One M.P.—reported in the peculiar manner of the day as "W-m P-ey, Esq."—advanced some arguments which have a familiar sound even today.

PITY POOR VENDORS

WHILE agreeing that some steps should be taken to restrict the use among persons of "inferior rank"—a favorite term, apparently—the M.P. was more concerned about the poor vendors and distillers. These, engaged in the distilling business, which had been carried on by Royal Authority over 100 years, stood to lose all their investment by the measure which, he declared, would lay a total prohibition upon the retail of such liquors. As he passionately pleaded:

"Do not let us, For God Sake, turn them all at once out of the Livelihood; Let us consider how difficult it is for a Man who has been bred up to, and has long exercised one sort of Business, to turn himself all at once to another. Let us consider what a Loss he must sustain by the sale of those utensils he had occasion for in his former way of business. In short, Sir, the Difficulties and Distresses into which many poor families must be drove to by this Prohibitory measure, raise in me most melancholy Reflections, and they must raise in the Breast of every Man who hears me, the most compassionate Concern."

FAMILIAR RING

THERE is also a familiar ring about another argument that same M.P. put forth in his long and eloquent objection to the imposition of prohibitory duties:

"I have often heard, Sir, of Sumptuary Laws by which certain sorts of Decorations have been forbidden to be worn by Persons of inferior Rank, but I have never yet heard of a Sumptuary Law by which any sorts of Victuals or Drink were forbid to be made use of by Persons of a low Degree; Yet we are proposing to forbid the Use of Spirituous Liquors to all those who are not able to purchase a certain number of Gallons at a time. A poor Journeyman or Labourer shall not have a Dram, shall not have a Glass of Punch, unless he can spare to lay out 8 shillings or 10 shillings at one time. . . . Whereas if a Man is rich enough, or profligate enough to pawn his Coat in order to raise the money, he may drink as much, he may commit as many Debauches in that Liquor, as he pleases; the Law contrived by the Wisdom of the British Legislature against the excessive drinking of Spirits shall put no Restraint upon any such Man."

Ottawa May Disallow B.C. Law To Tax E. And N. Lands

The federal government may act to disallow the B.C. Railway Lands Tax, passed at the last sitting of the provincial Legislature.

The Canadian Pacific Railway, which is most concerned in the tax because it is a levy to substitute for collections of timber royalties on alienated belt lands of its Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway, has served notice on the provincial government it intends to petition for disallowance of the tax.

Constitutional authorities here, after probing in Canadian law books and legal dictionaries, believe the federal government could intervene under provision of the British North America Act.

Show Goes On

BRIDGEWATER, Surrey, Eng. (CP)—Charles Heal, 71-year-old showman, for years gave Bridgewater children free rides on the opening night of his fair. Recently 2,000 children shrieked and laughed on the swings and roundabouts but Heal had died of heart disease before the show opened.

Pioneer Resident Officiates

Miss Amy Stewart, centre, 81-year-old long-time resident of View Royal, cuts the ribbon to officially open the district's new $95,000 elementary school. With her are F. J. K. English, senior municipal inspector of schools, left, and R. H. Green, chairman of the Greater Victoria School Board.

Ultra-Modern View Royal School Opened Wednesday

First of the original program of new school buildings for the Greater Victoria area, the ultra-modern View Royal Elementary School, was officially opened at an impressive ceremony Wednesday afternoon.

In a short address, R. H. Green, chairman of the Greater Victoria School Board, summarized the history of View Royal during the past century.

He told of the erection of the first school in the district, the old Craigflower School, which stands now as a museum at the north end of Craigflower Bridge.

FORMER STUDENT

A student at the historic Craigflower School, established in 1855, Miss Amy Stewart, 81-year-old resident of View Royal, cut the ribbon across the auditorium doors and the school was officially opened.

Miss Stewart is one of the oldest residents of the district, and still resides in the family dwelling which was built 94 years ago.

Six-year-old Sylvia Barrett, a student at the new school, presented a bouquet of flowers to Miss Stewart on behalf of the school board.

The 155 students of the school enjoyed a holiday for the ceremony. J. Harry Downard is the principal. Chairman of the ceremony was A. W. Trevett.

The title abbott was originally given as a mark of respect to any member of the clerical orders and when monastic institutions were first founded to the head monk of the institution.

Flood Fund, New Tennis Courts Object Of Show

A nine-event program with part proceeds for Manitoba Flood relief will be presented by Victoria High School at Athletic Park at 8 on Saturday night.

First $100 raised will go directly to the flood fund, with the remaining funds to be equally divided between the fund and the construction of tennis courts at Vic High. Over $300 has already been sold in tickets.

First event on the lengthy program will be a four-mile inside-the-park race. While the race is being staged, a Pro-Rec display under the direction of Ed Kelter will be presented.

An added event on the program will be the one-mile exhibition handicap race. British Empire Games winner Bill Parnell and Cliff Salmon, Canadian Olympic miler, and two Vic High runners, Don Pimlott and Willy Belobaba will compete in the event.

Victoria Girls' Drill Team and the newly-formed Chinese Girls' Drill Team will present exhibitions of precision marching. Music will be supplied by the Greater Victoria Schools Band during the evening.

Billed as the main attraction of the show is a baseball game between the Vic High squad and the Old-Timers.

Master of Ceremonies will be Archie McKinnon of the Y.M.C.A.

Canada Promises Pakistan Support

Reports Say Red Fight Assistance Assured

OTTAWA (BUP)—Canada has given Pakistan definite assurances of its willingness to help the new Commonwealth fight the spread of Communist imperialism, informed sources said today.

Usually reliable government circles said Pakistan Prime Minister Liaquat Ali Khan was assured of that when he met members of the Canadian cabinet in a private session Wednesday.

The promise was believed to have fulfilled one of Liaquat's main ambitions on his five-day Canadian visit—to encourage Canada to take a more active part in Far Eastern affairs.

Trade also was discussed at the cabinet meeting, it was reported. The Pakistan Prime Minister made it clear he wanted to build up more active commercial relations between both countries.

Both of the Pakistan appeals fell on anything but deaf ears among Canada's cabinet ministers.

Earlier he appealed to the House and Senate for recognition of the Commonwealth as a pattern for lasting peace.

"The Commonwealth has great opportunities for raising the hopes of mankind," he said, "by outlawing war and aggression and the use of coercion or force as a method of settling disputes among its own members.

30 U.S. Aircraft In Mass Flight Visit Here June 9

Thirty aircraft in mass flight from different parts of Washington will land at Patricia Bay airport June 9, officials of the Victoria Flying Club announce.

The planes are due at the airport around 6 in the evening, and will be met by representatives of the flying club, the City, Saanich and Esquimalt.

The visitors will be transported to town and will stay at the Empress Hotel. The next day they will be shown around Victoria and districts.

Arrangements are now being made to refuel and house the visiting aircraft.

R.A.F. Squadron Accepts Tankard

BIGGIN HILL, Kent, Eng. (CP)—London, Ont., air force reservists presented a silver tankard to the R.A.F. No. 600 City of London Squadron at a ceremony here.

FO. W. E. Corfield made the presentation on behalf of No. 420 City of London Squadron, R.C.A.F.

Sqdn. Ldr. D. E. Proudlove, commanding officer of the R.A.F. squadron, accepted the gift and said he plans to visit the Ontario London this fall.

Teachers Elect Oak Bay High Vice-Principal

The vice-principal of Oak Bay High School, C. Gibbard, was elected president of Greater Victoria Teachers' Association for 1950-51, at the annual meeting in Sir James Douglas School auditorium Wednesday night.

Others elected: J. Parnall, Victoria High, vice-president; Miss E. Turner, Victoria High, secretary; R. Hunter, Victoria High, treasurer.

Committee chairmen: Miss A. Cox, Victoria High, social; Miss C. Menzies, Willows, membership; C. Trotter, Victoria High, salary; G. Yard, Willows, public relations.

Mr. Parnall is chairman of Vancouver Island fall convention.

Reports were given by Miss Menzies, Miss K. Riley, Mrs. H. Hodson and Miss C. MacNab, and also by delegates who attended the annual B.C. Teachers' Federation meeting in Vancouver.

Mr. Gibbard will be delegate to the B.C.T.F. Workshop at Qualicum Beach Aug. 23 to 29. Purpose of the workshop is to improve association activities by training officers in their work.

Union Club Marks 70th Anniversary

More than 100 members attended the Union Club's 70th anniversary dinner Tuesday.

Oldest member at the dinner was 89-year-old Fred Nation.

Also present was Senator G. H. Barnard, a member since 1889, who joined just nine years after the club was founded.

STOLEN MONEY ORDERS SOUGHT

Scrutinize money orders carefully before cashing them is the caution of Police Chief John Blackstock to merchants.

He sounded this warning because there may be an attempt made to cash the money orders stolen from the Fernwood Pharmacy, Fernwood Road, last week.

A block of 500 money orders was stolen from the pharmacy.

To Open Ayrshire Show Saturday

PARKSVILLE—Sixth annual Red and White Ayrshire show at Parksville will be opened Saturday by Agriculture Minister Harry Bowman.

The event is sponsored by the Vancouver Island Ayrshire Club and Mount Arrowsmith branch No. 49, Canadian Legion. Prof. J. C. Berry of the University of British Columbia animal husbandry division has been asked to act as judge, with O. N. Wells of Sardis, named as alternate judge.

Truman Asks Huge Sum For Arms Aid

Tells Congress $1,222,500 Not Too Much For Save Ground Gained

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman today asked Congress to provide $1,222,500,000 for a second year of the arms aid program.

He said delay in supplying the money might "strike a fatal blow at all our efforts to create the kind of peace which the free world seeks and would lessen our chances of continuing to live and work in freedom."

The fund would finance arms shipments to more than a dozen foreign nations, including Atlantic Pact allies, during the fiscal year beginning next July 1.

The $1,222,500,000 requested by Mr. Truman is slightly less than the $1,314,010,000 which Congress appropriated last year to help 13 nations rearm against Communism.

Mr. Truman made the request in his first semi-annual report to Congress on the handling of the first year's program, which began last fall.

Backing up his request, Mr. Truman said:

"The momentum already gained must under no circumstances be lost, because, once lost, it is doubtful that it can ever be recaptured at any cost."

The President did not specify the exact number of countries which would share in the U.S. arms aid program.

JAPAN ASKS FOR TREATIES

TOKYO (AP)—Japan formally expressed the desire today to sign peace treaties with all countries "willing to accord it independence and equality."

The Foreign Office said Japan "fully possesses the necessary qualifications" for a formal peace treaty but has failed to obtain one because of the U.S.-Russian split.

Officer Stabbed By Deranged Patient Fighting For Life

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—A provincial police constable was fighting for life in hospital today after a knife-run battle Wednesday with a deranged man.

The mental patient, Stanley Thacker, 32, is also in "only fair" condition in hospital after a police bullet drilled through his stomach.

Constable Eric Hallam suffered knife wounds in his back and side when he, another constable and a doctor attempted to return Thacker to the British Columbia Mental Hospital from a visit to his Coquitlam home near here.

Thacker was committed to hospital last year after stabbing Provincial Police Constable James McGary, one of the men present Wednesday night.

Thacker's parents asked for police aid to return him to hospital but when he saw the trio arriving, the man sped away in an auto.

Police cut off his escape on a side road.

Japan's Reds Call General Protest Strike

TOKYO (AP)—Openly defiant, Japan's Communist Party today ordered a general strike Saturday in reprisal for the occupation's rush trial of eight Japanese accused of kicking and stoning United States soldiers.

The strike call promised to bring to a head growing tension between Gen. MacArthur's occupation forces and the belligerent Communists.

This tension, fueled by recent international Communist charges that the Japanese Reds were too docile, erupted Tuesday—U.S. Memorial Day—in the first physical violence of the occupation against U.S. troops.

A captain and four soldiers, observers at a Communist anti-American rally in downtown Imperial Plaza, were kicked, beaten and stoned. Only a few hours earlier, authorities had expelled the Communists from the Plaza to permit Americans to hold Memorial Day services for their war dead.

MacArthur, in a May 2 speech, urged the Japanese to defend their new constitutional liberties against the "international political perfidy" of Communism. He suggested the possibility of outlawing Japan's Communist Party.

Writer Jailed For Hotel Bill

GEORGETOWN, Del. (UP)—Ursula Parrott, four-times-wed novelist, was held in jail here today refusing to return to Maryland to face charges of running out on a $225 hotel bill.

Maryland authorities, however, prepared extradition papers to return her to Princess Anne, Md., where she was accused of walking out of the George Washington Hotel without paying her six-months' bill.

The 47-year-old author, whose novels, "Ex-Wife" and "Strangers May Kiss" skyrocketed her to fame in the early '30's, was arrested at nearby Delair last Tuesday as she was about to board a train bound for New York.

West German Red Youths End Their Sitdown, Quit Soviet Zone

LUEBECK, Germany (AP)—Ten thousand sleepy Communist youths, marooned for two nights just inside the Soviet zone, started moving toward their West-German homes today after calling off their sit-down strike.

The blue-shirted boys and girls accepted West German police demands that they give their names or submit to medical examinations before crossing the border.

They had been camping in the chilly border "no man's land," refusing to heed the police orders, since Tuesday night when they reached the East-West zonal frontier after attending the Communist Whitsun rally in Berlin.

The weary youths capitulated after a sleepless night during which they piled their straw bedding on to camp fires in an attempt to keep warm. This morning they shuffled past lines of police and watchful German doctors who gave them a quick look-over for any possible contagious diseases contracted in their crowded Berlin quarters.

Police said doctors found no illness among the youths.

Elsewhere along the East-West zonal frontier all was quiet.

Ontario Takes Stand On Toronto Gambling Issue

TORONTO (CP)—Controversy between Toronto municipal and Ontario provincial government officials arose over the gambling situation in Toronto.

Provincial Secretary Welsh contradicted Mayor Hiram McCallum over the matter of the Ontario government granting charters to clubs. The mayor had stated that at least six professional gambling syndicates are operating in Toronto and intimated city police were hamstrung in the matter of clubs operating under provincial charters.

To Mayor McCallum's claim that the city had repeatedly protested the granting of provincial charters to groups known to be linked with gambling syndicates, Mr. Welsh said this simply was not true. On the contrary, the Ontario cabinet minister said, his department had co-operated closely with the Toronto police department for the specific purpose of preventing gambling in incorporated clubs.

Mayor McCallum said that Mr. Welsh's statement was rather surprising. "His information conflicts with information in possession of the Toronto police commission and which I have personally," said the mayor. "If Mr. Welsh is available I am going to invite him to the next police commission meeting so he can examine our information personally."

Women Parlay $248 Into Big Guernsey Herd

CHALVINGTON, Sussex, Eng. (CP)—Three English spinsters parlayed an £80 ($248) investment into one of England's greatest herds of Guernsey dairy cattle.

The herd has just been dispersed in the greatest Guernsey sale Britain has ever known. Thirty-six head brought £48,216 ($149,469), for an average of £1,339 ($4,150).

The Misses Margaret and Avril Andrews and Miss Janet Spencer were in their 20s when they founded their herd with the purchase for £80 of the Bull Rose Lad 2nd of Maple Lodge.

Last year Miss Avril Andrews died. Death duties were heavy and the spinsters decided to sell the farm.

A crowd of 3,000 attended the sale to watch S. C. Gilchrist pay a record price of £2,200 ($6,800); for nine-year-old Chalvington Primrose Bloom.

Then two women — perhaps figuring they can duplicate the feat of the selling spinsters—topped that figure with £2,730 for five-year-old Beauty's Honoria.

Lord Beaverbrook was among the purchases, paying a record price of £2,625 for a yearling Guernsey bull.

At the end of the sale two Guernseys were unsold. One was 17-year-old Beauty of Bassieres, who has yielded to tons of milk in her time.

"She is really the matron of the herd," said Miss Andrews. "We could not find it in our hearts to part with her."

Fights Rabid Dog, Saving Children

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—A taxicab driver, father of five children, wrestled with an apparently mad dog to save a group of 82 terrified kindergarten pupils.

Twenty-eight-year-old Rick Parker spotted the dog, running wildly and foaming at the mouth, as he drove past the school Wednesday. Classes were changing and the youngsters were on the grounds.

The cab driver threw his car into reverse and put it between the mongrel dog and the children. He shouted at a patroling policewoman to get the children inside.

Then the dog darted around the cab and Parker flung himself upon it. As the children watched from windows, he wrestled the dog down the street. A youth in the neighborhood finally killed the dog with a rifle. Parker was bitten on one hand and was given an anti-rabies shot.

From 1944 to 1947, 15 new municipalities were established in northern Ontario and one in the southern section of the province.

Charge Soviet Flier Boasted Of Air Victory

BERLIN (AP)—The United States High Commission newspaper Neue Zeitung claimed today that a Soviet fighter pilot, during the East Berlin Communist youth rally, had described the loss of a United States navy Privateer plane in the Baltic as "the first air victory."

The paper said the legless Soviet ace, Alexei Meresyev, made the remark "under the influence of numerous vodkas" at a party at the House of Soviet Culture in the Eastern Zone.

"An hour later he was taken away by the MVD (Soviet security police)," the paper said. Meresyev spoke Wednesday, however, at youth ceremonies in East Berlin.

The U.S. Navy patrol plane with 10 men aboard disappeared April 8. The U.S. charged that Russia fighters shot down the plane. The Russians said a U.S. plane penetrated Russian territory, fired on Russian fighters and fled seaward when the fire was returned.

Fear Reds Seize Danish Fishboats

COPENHAGEN (UP) — Two Danish fishing vessels are believed to have been captured by the Russians in the Baltic Sea, the Danish Foreign Ministry said today.

The ministry said a Danish cutter reported receiving a cryptic radio message from the trawler Valkyrien Tuesday night saying: "We have been captured by the Russians."

The ministry said the Christian Soemund, which was with the Valkyrien at the time of the reported capture, also was assumed to have been seized.

Congress Hears From Acheson

APART FROM THE ESSENTIALLY lucid account which he gave to the members of both Houses of Congress in Washington yesterday of his discussions with the representatives of the other Atlantic Pact powers, Mr. Dean Acheson, United States Secretary of State, was also embarking on the delicate and somewhat difficult task of selling his concept of what remains to be done to gear the western defensive arrangements to the Soviet Union's potential threat to the peace of Europe.

This is not to suggest that the importance of our neighbor maintaining its bipartisan outlook in respect of its dealings with international problems appears less essential in the minds of Mr. Truman's political opponents than it did before the political issues of this election year acquired new significance in the light of the results of several primaries. But it is no secret that a good deal of persuasion still seems to be required to pry loose the last remnants of the isolationist creed from not a few influential members of the Republican Party—and, for that matter, from some of the Administration's loyal supporters. Deep-rooted prejudices, however, particularly when mixed with a vote-angling technique, are not readily eradicated. Neither the Secretary of State nor the President requires any tutelage in this regard.

Some of the mid-western Congressmen, however, should be reassured by Mr. Acheson's explanation of the character of the force the Atlantic Pact powers intend to establish as a deterrent to possible Russian aggression in Europe. This would be a collective organization under which each of the dozen nations committed to joint action would build up troops and arms according to the needs of the whole alliance rather than strictly for its own defensive needs. On this assumption, therefore, the United States conceivably would argue that she ought to spend relatively more on air force and navy equipment than on army development. The head of the State Department further explained:

> The President has authorized me to say that he supports Defence Secretary Johnson and me in our view that we must make this principle work, for we can see no other way to accomplish the job of defence and at the same time to get ahead with the constructive task of building a successfully functioning economy in the free world.

From that point, of course, the question of finance injects a consideration at which those still lukewarm to such constructive international policies as Marshall aid may be expected to aim their political shafts. Mr. Acheson was quick to intimate to the assembled Congressmen, however, that "the job cannot be done unless we do our full part, which includes the provision of mutual defence assistance"—which means the provision of money to achieve the twin objective of "building a successful, functioning economy in the free world," plus much of the essential wherewithal to enable that free world to defend itself effectively. With such outstanding bipartisan proponents in the Republican Party as Senator Vandenberg and Senator Dulles, the latter now acting in an advisory capacity to Mr. Acheson, airy criticism of the proposals inherent in the accounting of the Secretary of State is scarcely likely to develop into a serious delaying action.

What the great majority of our neighbors will not forget, incidentally, is that the key clause of the Atlantic Pact reads: "The parties agree that an armed attack on one or more of them in Europe or North America shall be considered an attack against them all." And the joint force, of course, completely removes any chance of the participants in the alliance falling prey to the historic Napoleonic hope. For the redoubtable Corsican once said: "Give me allies to fight." His vision was a host of sovereign states in military association—with all the handicaps of divided commands, ragged strategy, uncohesive forces and international jealousies. Congressmen uneasy in their minds about the further jettisoning of an outmoded policy of "no foreign entanglements" might carefully note Napoleon's dictum.

Fair Play And The Ludicrous

OUTRAGEOUS AS IT MAY HAVE been considered in some quarters, the performance of Sidney Cooper, 46-year-old Bebington garbage collector who joined a royal procession in his orange garbage truck and bowed and waved to crowds assembled to see Queen Elizabeth, was too ludicrous to have had an unhappy ending. Mr. Cooper overstepped the bounds of good taste. There is a place for buffoons in parades, but not the type to which he attached himself. Such antics as his are fitting ingredients of a moving picture farce. Their place in a traditional ceremony of the nature he invaded is highly questionable.

As a consequence of his demonstration and his too boastful tongue, he was fired by the City Council. At the request of more than 1,000 Bebington residents, he has been reinstated in a job on which his eight children probably depend for their livelihood.

Whether the individual is shocked by Cooper's behavior, or sees in it an occasion for unbounded laughter, one point stands out. In many other parts of the world such a display as his would have drawn quick and perhaps final punishment. It marks no lack of respect for Britain's Royal Family that his fellow townsmen have persuaded the council to take him back. What it does demonstrate is a sense of fair play and an underlying enjoyment of the ridiculous which is an Englishman's right.

In an era of continuing austerity, two of Britain's sources of strength must be found in those characteristics. It is to be hoped that Cooper's impulse to don the motley will be confined to more appropriate occasions in the future. But if he has done nothing else of value, he has been the means by which an important insight has been given into the character of the British people.

Of Concern To All

THE PASSING OF COUNTERFEIT money—with all that that implies in danger to our national economy and disruption of day-to-day commercial affairs—is a crime of particular concern to every citizen. To a greater extent than is usually realized, buying and selling—from the trivial transaction at the candy counter to the larger financial deal—rest basically on public confidence in the medium of exchange. When that confidence is shaken by anxiety as to the legal standing of the money in circulation, a rapid deterioration of business can ensue. Recent experience in Vancouver and Victoria, when many theatres and other concerns were reluctant to accept 10-dollar bills, illustrated the point.

The work of the R.C.M.P. in seizing a large amount of counterfeit in Toronto this week will therefore win wide approval, particularly as it is strongly suspected that the bogus currency was destined to be distributed in Winnipeg. To have added such further economic hazards to an area already sorely stricken by prolonged flood and hardship would have been a most contemptible act. Sentiment, however, plays no part in the plans of counterfeiters. Justice equally unmoved by personal feeling should prevail in assessing their punishment.

Critics Still Trying To Blame U.S. Policy For Fall Of China

By BRUCE BIOSSAT from New York

IT ISN'T easy for any of us to thread our way through the maze of charges leveled against the State Department in the past three months. But still we have to try.

Much of the criticism hinges on the fact that China fell to the Communists. It seems to be assumed that the United States could have prevented the defeat of Chiang Kai-shek's government had it pursued a wiser foreign policy.

FINAL STEP

From there the jump is short to the conclusion that the U.S. State Department is to blame for this disastrous outcome. The final step is the claim that Communists infiltrating or influencing the department deliberately engineered Chiang's downfall.

Could America really have saved Chiang?

General Marshall, who was Secretary of State when the decision was made to abandon him, denies that it was possible except at great cost and at risk of war. He declares, furthermore, that no Communist influenced his decision to give up on Chiang.

Now we have some similar testimony from George Kennan, department counselor now on leave.

Kennan says that to blame the department for Nationalist China's collapse would make sense only if China were a sort of U.S. province. It leaves no room for the possibility that Chiang's government operated independently and was subject to many world influences which might have contributed to its failure.

Kennan insists that Chiang was indeed a free agent. More than that, he says the generalissimo and his top men persistently failed to heed U.S. warnings that their early postwar course was leading toward disaster. The Nationalists, contends Kennan, only wanted to involve the U.S. so deeply that it would be forced to take over the major burden.

We have Marshall's word that it came to that: either make China a virtual U.S. protectorate, or get out of that area completely.

Marshall chose to abandon Chiang because of the risk of war and because of existing heavy commitments in Europe.

No critic has yet proved he was influenced in this decision by any Communist. Nor has anyone shown how America could have gone more deeply into China without incurring greater dangers than it now faces from the Reds' sweep of that country.

BEYOND SAVING

If Marshall and Kennan are right, then Chiang in 1946-48 was beyond saving by any reasonable U.S. policy. What the average American must still settle for himself is whether more remote U.S. decisions had helped to send Chiang downhill to the point where his case was hopeless.

Perhaps in the end we must all share responsibility for China's fall. In any case, the causes seem to lie well in the past. It will be hard to prove that the present stewards of U.S. foreign policy are to blame.

Atomic Future

By STEWART ALSOP From Washington

THERE is good reason to believe that the American people are not being told what they have every right to know. No one suggests that technical secrets should be broadcast to the world. But in a democracy, great issues of national policy cannot be settled behind locked doors. There must be public debate on the answers to such vitally important questions as these:

Has it been decided not to engage in an all-out effort to make the hydrogen bomb?

Has it been decided virtually to abandon the effort to find ways of using atomic energy as a great new source of industrial power?

Has it been decided to abandon as impractical any serious attempt to organize an effective civil defence against atomic bombardment in time of war?

BECAUSE of the thick shroud of secrecy in which such matters are enveloped, it is impossible now to answer any of these questions positively. But certainly these are reasons for believing that the answer to all three questions is "yes."

The fact, recently reported in this space, that there are technical grounds for doubting that the hydrogen bomb is a good military investment has now been widely confirmed, especially in a remarkable article in the Scientific American, by Dr. Robert Bacher, physicist and former member of the Atomic Energy Commission.

BRIEFLY, there are reasons for believing that the hydrogen bomb, if it can be made at all, will yield a much smaller comparative return in terms of area destroyed than the number of atom bombs which could be produced with an equivalent investment. What is more important, hydrogen bombs require the same facilities, and the same uranium raw material, as atom bombs. Thus, to make hydrogen bombs and at the same time avoid a sharp cutback in atom bomb production, it might be necessary to build a counterpart of the billion-dollar Hanford reactor plant. It might even be necessary to build a counterpart of the Northwest Hydro-Electric Power system which feeds the Hanford plant.

No such investment is apparently even remotely contemplated. Moreover, the great scientists whose hideous magic brought forth the atom bomb are not working on the desperately difficult problem of making hydrogen bombs. This and other evidence clearly suggests that the United States is not now engaged in an all-out effort to produce the terrible new weapon.

FOR the reasons given above, this decision, if it has in fact been made, may be justified. But there is no justification for bamboozling the American people where such a life-and-death issue is concerned. Moreover, in a democracy a small group of officials simply cannot secretly assume responsibility for the appalling risk that the Soviets might perfect a weapon of total destruction before the United States.

The question of finding a way to use atomic energy as a source of industrial power may seem less dramatic. But it is in fact an issue of absolutely central importance. Consider a recent statement by former Atomic Energy Chairman David Lilienthal.

ONLY last March, Lilienthal said: "We must recognize as soon as possible the importance of the development of atomic energy as a new and vital branch of our industrial technology. We must get away from our dependence on coal and should begin to throw the energies of the country into the development of nuclear energy on a large scale."

Lilienthal should know what he is talking about. And what Lilienthal was taking about was a new source of industrial power which could transform the economy of America.

YET a few weeks after Lilienthal spoke, in a little-noted move, the Atomic Energy Commission abandoned its most important industrial power project, announcing that work would go forward instead on an atomic power plant for submarines. Since then acting chairman Sumner Pike and other A.E.C. officials, flatly contradicting Lilienthal, have publicly voiced great skepticism about the practical possibilities of using atomic power for industrial purposes.

ON THE BASIS of such evidence, knowledgeable observers strongly suspect that the A.E.C. is now concentrating virtually all its resources on straight military objectives. In view of the world situation, this might be a wise decision. But again, the dangers are obvious. Assume that Lilienthal is right and nuclear energy is a great new potential source of power. Assume that the Soviet Union successfully develops this power source, while the United States neglects it. This alone could decisively alter the whole world power balance in the Soviet Union's favor.

The third and equally vital issue of civil defence must be left to a later report. Meanwhile, it is worth pondering the words of the brilliant physicist, Dr. Robert Oppenheimer: "It is a grave danger that these decisions are being taken on the basis of facts held secret. . . . Wisdom itself cannot flourish, and even truth cannot be established, without the give and take of criticism and debate."

COLD WAR

Montreal Gazette

If the West is to win, it cannot go on hoping only that it can keep its enemy from coming any closer. It must win in the conviction that there can be no permanence to tyranny, and that a compromise with tyranny is only the fatal revival of the school which tried to "do business with Hitler."

In a cold war as in any other kind of struggle, there is great truth in Lord Nelson's maxim: "The most daring courses are also the safest."

As Our Readers See It

NOT DISCRIMINATION

We are property owners and are automatically on the voters' list. How is it then we were not notified as to where our polling station was, when others of the same address were?

CURIOUS and DISAPPOINTED.

(Editor's Note: City property owners are not "automatically" on the provincial voters' list, which was the list used in Tuesday's plebiscite.)

SAANICH SECESSION

The official notice of the plebicite on secession in your issue of May 27 is most unfair and confusing.

The Minister of Municipal Affairs has made it abundantly clear that areas seceding will be amalgamated into one municipality not separate small municipalities as indicated in the official notice.

G. H. PETHICK.

DELINQUENCY

In your issue of Monday, May 29, a letter states that "The failure of present-day parents to teach their children self-control is the root of juvenile delinquency." But in that case where does the delinquency really start?

Young people of today because of available greater knowledge refuse to accept the mystical half-truths which were forced on their grandparents, and the result is seen in the failure of the old mould to hold and shape the new citizen.

HOSPITAL TAX

The B.C. Government make us pay our hospital tax in advance, not only that, but they have the colossal nerve to fix their deadline, a full month before the period for which we are paying in advance. Any delay is now penalized by withholding hospital benefit, perhaps to very seriously ill persons, for a period of several weeks. The rates for 1951 year will be very soon settled. Are they going to be hoisted again and if so how much?

The B.C. Government spent almost a quarter of a million dollars in research work before embarking on this mad idea of a hospital levy on everyone. Today, I spent a half hour trying to get to the window to pay my half years' tax; I couldn't make it within my lunch hour and I am working during office hours. When are payments going to be staggered to avoid these hopeless log jams of harassed taxpayers? I suggest a Royal Commission should be set up to inquire into this whole wretched business. Talk about socialist inefficency, this coalition Government can give the bureaucrats of Britain a point or two.

STILL UNCONVERTED

It is a puzzle to us how you can describe the Red Dean as "a well meaning man"! He lives by drawing pay from a Christian Church yet devotes most of his time supporting an avowed anti-Christian government and a police state. Surely you have not been converted to his way of thinking. Even if you had, you should surely recoil in disgust from a traitor.

BIG BEND

We have just reached Victoria, after a trip from Banff on your Trans-Canada Highway via the Big Bend Road. We got our idea to try this way after reading a folder put out by the B.C. Government Travel Bureau, "British Columbia presents Big Bend Trans-Canada Highway."

This road is very poorly described, as the "Grandeurs of the Alpine Wonderland" cannot be seen. One has to keep their eyes glued to the road, which is a combination of large rocks, chuckholes, washboard, cave-ins at both edges, water on roads at several places. There are also no markers to let you know where the grades and dangers of the road are, of which there are many.

I don't like to knock your roads but I do think this pamphlet should be saved for a future date.

Now, I must praise your roads from Penticton to Hope via Princeton. They are good hard-serviced, two-lane highways and "Alpine grandeur" can be seen to advantage. We enjoyed this part of our trip very much.

All Citizens Will Hope Mounties Can Win Where Mosquitoes Failed

TORCHY ANDERSON, in The Vancouver Daily Province

"THE MAN With The Note Book," who does an Ottawa commentary for Maclean's magazine, is one of our favorite political observers. Maybe he had an anonymous substitute do his column in the June 1 Macleans, for he was certainly not up to his usual factual fairness.

He wrote about the Doukhobors and his theme was that "Ottawa thinks" that the distressing performances of the Sons of Freedom Doukhobors are really the fault of easygoing British Columbia authorities. "The Man" recalls that when the Doukhobors first settled in what is now Saskatchewan the Mounties really enforced the law. He tells how the Mounties cured the Sons' craving for nudity by exposing them to Saskatchewan mosquitoes.

Well, the Mounties are taking over in B.C. so they will be able to demonstrate how to keep the pants on the Sons. But the record (which The Man seems to have negelected) says that the fanatic Doukhobors made their first march from Yorkton eastward in 1902 and it was late fall, cold and snowy. Those Saskatchewan mosquitoes must have been out late that year.

The record also shows that the Sons kept on making pilgrimages of devotion and protest, in varying stages of undress.

The Man does not tell his readers that the Douks were brought to this country under agreement, by a federal minister of the interior. They were settled in Saskatchewan. According to The Man they moved to B.C. because they knew they could get away with lawlessness here.

The Man better not take his whole story from Ottawa. We advise him to study files of the B.C. Provincial Police—records of incidents that have never been made public in all their disgusting details—and then go back to Ottawa and ask: Who brought the Douks to Canada? What sort of guarantees were they given? Where were they settled? Was any province consulted about the whole business?

Yes, and take along a nice, large, fresh Note Book.

GLOBAL SURVEY

By SIGRID ARNE

Associated Press News Analyst
(For DeWitt Mackenzie)

ALL the postwar years the western European powers have worried over some means to recreate their old trade with middle Europe.

Russia wrote the sort of postwar trade treaties with its satellites in middle Europe that siphoned off large portions of their goods for Russia. There was little or nothing left for the West.

Now, for no announced reason, Moscow is willing to consider shipping Russian grains to western Europe again—in return for commodities as yet unnamed.

The offer scarcely raises a cheer among Washington trade experts. There are several conjectures about Russian motives.

This shift in Russian trade stategy arose after the United Nations Economic Commission for Europe, headed by Gunnar Myrdal of Sweden, put out a feeler last November on possible greater trade between the non-Communist and Communist halves of Europe. Moscow has just replied that the feeler is "favorably received" in so far as a possible grain swap might be concluded.

Between the issuance of the U.N. feeler last November, and the favorable Moscow reply, Myrdal had a visit to Moscow.

Now, on the surface, it appears that Moscow is moved to shove the Iron Curtain aside a little. But U.S. government wheat experts here point out there is a much reduced need now for Russian or middle European grain, much as it was needed in the grueling years of 1946 and 1947.

Europe's basic needs on wheat are cared for. It's possible, however, that Russia might offer coarse grains and that Europe might need them enough to get a new East-West trade channel open.

It also is possible the Russians may try to undersell the world market so that the international wheat agreement would be strained. The gloomier of the trade prophets in Washington have always said that it was in Russia's pattern of aggression eventually to use surpluses to break prices.

THE COMMON SCOLD

Ottawa Journal

In every community there are a few people who can find no good in their home town or its people. They take a dim view of the past, the present they find depressing, the future is without hope. The municipal government is stupid, the people are ignorant and indifferent, and what can you do with a situation like that except prepare for the worst?

Of course no town is that bad, that sunk in lethargy and self-sufficiency, and the person who damns everything and everybody isn't taken very seriously. Nevertheless the critic, even if some call him a common scold, has a function of some usefulness. At least he saves us from complacency.

Ups And Downs

By BRIAN A. TOBIN

"IT'S SURPRISING," said the Elevator Man, "how a personal thing like kissing has become so important in politics. Everybody knows, of course, about the traditional baby-kissing that used to go on during election campaigns. Thrusting the poor baby's face into the politician's whiskery pan was supposed to place some special honor on the youngster and its mother and ensure the whole family's support on polling day. But whether it worked is hard to say. Any colds caught by the kid within a week of the kissing would be blamed on the politician for sure. The politician, of course, could always fortify himself against a similar threat by rinsing his mouth out with a little alcohol before and after the exchange of affection. Going up!

"On a little different plane," said the Elevator Man, "comes the kissing indulged in by current public men. Take Alben Barkley, for example. He got quite a reputation around Washington for his abilities in that line. He seemed to overlook few chances on public occasions of planting a smacker on the nearest presentable woman, regardless of age. There was some speculation about what he'd do after he got married last year. But latest reports give the idea he's still right in there dispensing vice-presidential esteem. They say every American boy aims to be President some day, but I bet Alben's success has influenced some of them to lower their sights a peg. Mezzanine!

"Now," said the Elevator Man, "comes word that we're developing a Canadian Barkley. George Cruikshank, Fraser Valley's member at Ottawa, is gaining a name for himself as the official House kisser. He kissed Mrs. Strum, the lone woman in the Commons, farewell last year, and now he's welcomed the new sole woman member, Mrs. Fairclough, in the same way. Maybe he figures there won't always just be one."

SOON TO RESIGN his seat in the Commons for Joliette-Assumption-Montcalm is Georges Emile Lapalme, above, 43-year-old barrister, who was chosen at a convention of the Liberal Party of Quebec to lead it in the next provincial general election against the Union Nationale, now in office. He will devote all his time to his new post. The election may be held in 1952. (C.P. Photo.)

Two Murders, Suicide In Ontario Town

CROWLAND, Ont. (CP)—Three persons were found dead early today in their home here and police said it was a case of murder and suicide.

All former displaced persons, they were Joseph Skrynnik, his wife Annie, and Leon Rozkowski. All were about 40 years of age.

Both the Skrynniks had been beaten about the head with an axe and both died of skull fractures. The body of Rozkowski was found with the throat cut, and four razors lying nearby.

The Skrynniks and Rozkowski lived in a two-family dwelling on Sauer Avenue on the outskirts of this town, 10 miles from Niagara Falls. The Skrynniks had two children, and Rozkowski and his wife one child. All three children were sleeping in the house when the slayings were done.

THE HOME GARDEN

Without Humus Soil Is Dead, No Plant Growth

By JACK G. BEASTALL

As we resort to artificial watering we can more easily determine the humus content of our soil.

Humus is the organic, or non-mineral, material which makes up a large part of any good, fertile, productive soil.

It consists of vegetable and animal matter in various stages of decomposition, and dead animals ranging from micro-organisms to bugs and rodents.

Without humus a soil is dead and inert—pure sand or clay—and unable to support plant growth.

The inconveniences of handling manure in the residential sections of a city, combined with its increasing scarcity, has caused home gardeners to rely, more and more, on chemical fertilizers to supply the needed plant foods.

Because of this, soils are often made poor through neglecting to provide any other kind of humus.

RESEMBLES SPONGE

When the soil contains a reasonable amount of decomposed vegetation it resembles a sponge. It retains moisture and supplies it to the plants as required. It also reflects in the water bill and in the water pressure of the mains, because frequent watering is unnecessary.

As water is applied to sand or clay its main movement is straight down to hardpan, from where it drains off. On a spongy soil it is soaked up within the root area of the plants and has a decided lateral movement.

There are several inexpensive ways of supplying humus. Fallen leaves, cut and pulled weeds, lawn clippings, plant tissue, kitchen vegetable waste, and similar organic materials, may be utilized through the medium of the compost heap. Another method is to grow green manure crops on all ground as soon as it becomes vacant and digging them in while soft and green. Such materials, upon decaying, become the humus so essential to soil fertility.

Ship Beats Blockade

HONGKONG (Reuter)—Another British ship, the 2,994-ton Tsinan, has beaten the Chinese Nationalist blockade to reach Shanghai, her owners here said. She is the second ship to enter the Yangtze River since the Nationalists withdrew from the Chusan Islands, their blockade base, over two weeks ago.

Too Many Driving Without Licenses

City prosecutor Claude L. Harrison in city police court expressed concern over the danger to the public caused by persons driving vehicles without being the holders of driver's licenses.

He pointed out to Magistrate H. C. Hall that a large number of persons appearing in the court for breaches of the statute had no driver's licenses.

The prosecutor's remarks came in the case of Gordon Stanley Field, 1611 Fairfield Road. He was fined $40 for careless driving and an additional $30 for not being the holder of a license.

William Moresby appeared as counsel and entered pleas of guilty to both charges. He explained his client was a 1949 license-holder, but had been away at sea when the renewal time came and had overlooked getting a 1950 licence.

MEAT LOAF, $500, 'DONE'

MIAMI, Okla. (AP)—Mrs. John Carter placed a meat loaf in the oven and went out to mow the lawn until her husband came home.

Carter, operator of a shopping centre, hurriedly looked for a likely hiding place and tossed the day's receipts of $500 into the broiler compartment beneath the oven, then relieved his wife at the mower. Mrs. Carter came in to inspect the meat loaf. It was done and so was the $500, burned to a crisp.

Open Tenders For James Bay Hall

Lowest tender for construction of a new fire hall in James Bay was that of Luney and Robinson for $15,309, opened with six other tenders at a special meeting of City Council Wednesday.

Council referred the tenders to the fire wardens committee with power to act.

Others sending in tenders were: J. A. Pollard, for $15,995; Dillabough and Luney, $16,406; T. Lambie and Son, $17,000; L. G. Scott, $17,583; McKinty and Sons, $18,170; and E. S. Weismiller, $18,186.

Scotland Sends Livestock To Manitoba Farms

GLASGOW (CP)—Scotland will send top-quality livestock to help restock flooded agricultural lands around Winnipeg.

The decision was taken Wednesday by the directors of the Royal Highland and Agricultural Society, which instructed a committee to work out details of the best way to aid distressed Canadian farmers.

W. J. Reid of Laurencekirk, Kincardineshire, urged the society to send only the best. He suggested that Scottish gifts should take the form of pedigree livestock of different breeding—"something to show Scotland off to the best advantage."

The committee was instructed to report his month.

City Hall Staffs To Aid Flood Fund

City Hall Employees' Association today promised Mayor Percy George full co-operation with regard to his request for all city employees to make up a subscription list for Manitoba Flood Relief.

The mayor said he had made the request of inside and outside staffs, electrical workers, police and firemen.

Transit Changes, June 4th

ON FIVE LINES TO PROVIDE FASTER, MORE DIRECT BUS SERVICE

Changes are being made on five transit lines, starting Sunday, June 4th, which it is believed will offer improved service. In several cases the number of trips have been increased substantially, and more direct service is possible. Here are the changes in a nutshell:

★ LAKE HILL-OUTER WHARF (Route No. 6)—Joins Lake Hill and Outer Wharf into one route.

★ GORGE-WILLOWS (Route No. 20) — Joins Gorge and Willows service into one route.

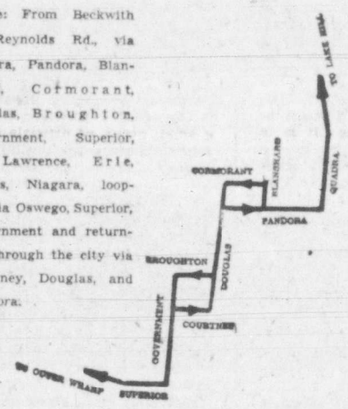
★ CITY-ESQUIMALT (Route No. 4)—Uses Johnson Street Bridge, operates between downtown Victoria and Esquimalt.

★ COOK-MAPLEWOOD and COOK-CEDAR HILL (Route No. 24)—Provides minor changes in downtown routing.

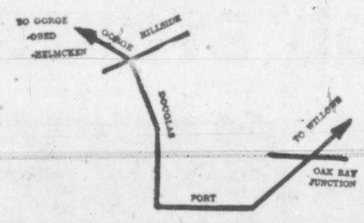
★ GORDON HEAD (Route No. 25)—New routing via Shelbourne, Hillside and Douglas at popular request.

LAKE HILL-OUTER WHARF—Route No. 6

Route: From Beckwith or Reynolds Rd., via Quadra, Pandora, Blanshard, Cormorant, Douglas, Broughton, Government, Superior, St. Lawrence, Erie, Dallas, Niagara, looping via Oswego, Superior, Government and returning through the city via Courtney, Douglas, and Pandora.



GORGE-WILLOWS—Route No. 20

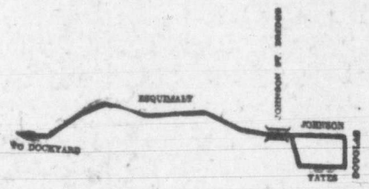


Route: From a loop of Cadboro Bay Road, Thompson, Estevan, Beach, Bowker, via Cadboro Bay Road, Fort, Douglas, Gorge Road, Admirals to a terminus at Admirals and Island Highway, returning via outbound route.

GORGE-OBED: Via Gorge Road, Tillicum, Obed, Dysart, Cowper, Admirals, to Gorge Road, returning via Gorge Road.

GORGE-HELMCKEN: Via Gorge Road, Admirals, Island Highway to Helmcken Road and return.

CITY-ESQUIMALT—Route No. 4



Route: From Dockyard via Esquimalt Rd., Johnson to Douglas, looping in city outbound via Douglas, Yates, Wharf, Johnson, Esquimalt to Dockyard.

COOK-MAPLEWOOD and COOK-CEDAR HILL Route No. 24

Frank Smedley weighs last load.

Daily Weight Watching Over For City Employee

By ROY THORSEN

"You fellows have an uncanny skill at getting a load to weigh a few pounds under the next price scale," grinned Weighmaster Frank Smedley to a truck driver, grimed from his day's work of pitching heavy scrap iron around.

Frank was jesting — and he gets lots of comebacks—with one of the hundreds of truck drivers he has come to know so well while tallying the weight of another load during his last day as weighmaster for the City of Victoria.

Short-statured and Lancashire-born, Mr. Smedley was officially retired Wednesday night on reaching the age of 65. He concludes a four-year term as operator of the public scales located on public market square, Fisgard Street.

Like a lot of other older men who were taken on the city's permanent staff too late in life, he could not qualify for superannuation. Frank will be looking around for something else to do to provide the bread and butter for his Langford home as the years march by.

"I've liked every day on the job, though, and enjoyed the bantering of the hard-working, happy-go-lucky boys who wheel those trucks around," he confided.

HEAVY-DUTY SCALES

The scales Frank manipulates weigh anything from 10 pounds up to 30 tons (60,000 pounds).

"And I've weighed millions and millions of pounds of stuff; truckloads of scrap, coal, wood, cows, pigs, turkeys, fruit, vegetables, cars (for license purposes) and just about anything else you can name," said the retiring weighmaster.

Charges, he explained, ranged from 25 cents to a top of $2 and went on to tell that fees collected in 1948 totalled $3,100.

Commons Sits 3 Times Daily To Finish Session

Bulkiest Items To Be Passed Before End Of Sittings Are Departmental Estimates

OTTAWA (CP)—The Commons today began an eight-hour working day in its drive towards prorogation.

Three sittings—11 a.m. to 1 p.m., 3 p.m. to 6 p.m., and 8 p.m. to 11 p.m.—replace the usual afternoon and evening sittings.

Still among the bulkiest items to be tackled are the estimates of expenditures of various departments. The sailing is expected to be a lot smoother once these items are cleaned up.

Before prorogation—some expect it by the end of the month—members will probably be asked to adopt the reports of several committees and deal with a half-dozen or more government bills, including a measure providing a new charter for Canada's Indians.

At the usual abbreviated sitting Wednesday, members gave third reading to a bill extending provisions of the War Veterans' Allowance Act to Imperial veterans now resident in Canada. Also adopted was a bill making minor amendments to the Canadian Grain Act and a measure extending application of the Criminal Code to the new province of Newfoundland.

Resources Minister Winters said houses owned by the Central Mortage and Housing Corporation in the flooded areas of Winnipeg will be brought into good condition just as soon as possible.

On the veterans' bills, Veterans' Minister Gregg said his department intends to set up permanent district authorities across the country with power to hear the appeals of veterans who feel they had not been dealt with fairly.

Home Discipline Essential, Says School Principal

"We can't have two patterns of life, one for our children and one for ourselves," said Bernard Gillie, principal of Willows School and recently appointed principal of the new S. J. Willis Junior High School, at Kiwanis club luncheon.

"We hear a lot about teenagers drinking at dances these days. I wonder who could have taught them," he added. Education is not just a task for the school, but also for the home, the two must collaborate. "Education is one of several legs that holds up the table," he said.

Mr. Gillie felt that there was more controversy over the modern methods of discipline than any other thing. "Some say there is no discipline in the schools at all. It just isn't so." Our idea today is that control must come from inside the individual, he explained. "The voice of to do, or not to do, must come from within."

Insurance company statistics indicate there are about 250,000 persons suffering from diabetics in the United States.

Canada Keeps Independence In Trade Fields

TORONTO (CP)—Finance Minister Abbott said Wednesday night Canada has retained her independent position despite suggestions that she join either the sterling area or enter into some kind of customs union with the United States.

In a speech at a dinner for exhibitors and visitors at the Canadian International Trade Fair, Mr. Abbott said Canada was in a unique trading position as the third side of the dollar-sterling triangle. This was by no means the most comfortable position.

"After the end of the war voices were raised now and again urging Canada should either join the sterling area or enter into some kind of customs union with the United States," he said.

"But both extremes have been avoided. We have retained our independent position. True, overseas exports have fallen, as was perhaps inevitable. But overseas countries have been increasing their earnings from us, giving grounds for hope that there will continue to be good, even if temporarily reduced, markets for Canadian goods across the seas."

City Asks Saanich Elk Lake Development Plans

Dr. Cleveland Says Ethical Reasons For Transfer; Council Refers To Committee

After an hour and a half's discussion on the proposed transfer of Elk Lake watershed to Saanich at a special meeting Wednesday, City Council referred the matter to its water committee.

The committee which had recommended the transfer at a previous meeting was asked to interview Saanich officials and find out if the municipality wanted the watershed and just what development they were prepared to undertake.

Ald. Harold M. Diggon, who has opposed what he has termed any hurried transfer to Saanich, carried the question ball through out the meeting, aided by Ald. Waldo Skillings.

Dr. E. A. Cleveland, head of Greater Vancouver Water District, Chief Commissioner Ralph Davis of the Greater Victoria Water Board, and G. M. Irwin, water commissioner, attended and answered questions.

"Since 1940, I have been of the opinion Elk Lake should be put under the trusteeship of the municipality in which it is found," said Mayor Percy George as he outlined the history of the watershed.

He quoted from a 1947 report to the provincial government of Dr. Cleveland's following the latter's study of the area, in which he recommended that such action be taken.

The Waterworks Act of 1873 gave the city a chance to choose its course of water supply from a radius of 20 miles, Dr. Cleveland said. Since 1913 Sooke sup- Lake. He said Elk Lake water was much inferior and the city would not want it.

"I think there are sound ethical reasons why the transfer should be made," Dr. Cleveland told council, referring to Saanich's need and the fact that the city has no use for the water.

Ald. Diggon wanted to know if Saanich had any plans for the development of the area. He said he had seen no desire on the part of Saanich to start a water board and he felt the city should have some proof of the municipality's intentions.

He contended there were political, historical and financial matters to be studied, referring to the secession plebiscite.

"No one is trying to hurt Saanich and it is not a case of adopting a dog in the manger attitude," he said. "But we must protect the interests of Victoria and the hinterland."

Mr. Davis said the Greater Victoria Water Board had no interest in Elk Lake.

Ald. Skillings told the meeting the city should not transfer the watershed unless instructed by the citizens, contending it was not up to council to "give it away." He added that auditors were now preparing a report on the city's financial picture, and ownership of Elk Lake watershed would have a bearing on it.

LEFT ACCIDENT SCENE

For failing to stop at the scene of an accident, William R. Watson, 421 Durban Road, was fined $35 by Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court. He pleaded guilty.

C. L. Harrison, city prosecutor, told the court Watson's car was in a collison with a car driven by Howard J. Langdon, 143 Joseph Street, at Moss and Richardson Streets, May 30, and did not stop.

Shamrocks Are Rugged

Outslug Kerries As Refs Pull Rule Book

By BILL WALKER

VANCOUVER—Armed with nothing more than a whistle in one hand, a rule book in the other, and with a plea from team coaches still ringing in their ears for more stringent refereeing, striped-shirted Tom McKeachie and Gordie Folka were the central figures in last night's intercity lacrosse game here between Shamrocks and Richmond Kerrisdale.

The two officials read the "small print" to the players from start to finish as requested in a pre-game meeting between club officials, the league commission and referees and the result saw a continual parade to the penalty box.

Shamrocks proved the better of the two clubs in the penalty-infested brawl that saw a total of 58 minutes spent in the sin bin, and after spotting Richmond an early lead in the first quarter outsped the Arkays to a well-deserved 14 to 8 triumph.

The game, which put Shamrocks in second place, was a rough and ready exhibition rom the opening whistle to the final bell, with a near free-for-all in the fourth quarter threatening to blow the lid off a pot that boiled to the melting point at times.

Of the 58 minutes in penalties Shamrocks drew 19 and Kerrisdale 39, but the latter's list included two 10-minute misconducts plus a match misconduct to Fred Davidson for fighting.

Richmond started off as if they were going to duplicate their 21 to 4 lacing of Vancouver Burrards, scoring on the first three shots they took on big Bill Andrews.

HIS MOTHER WATCHED

But Andrews, with his mother in the stands viewing her first game in 15 years, pulled up his bulk and was almost unbeatable the rest of the route.

Trailing 5 to 4 at the end of the first quarter the ever-improving wearers of the green forged into a 7 to 6 lead at half time, boosted the margin to 10 to 7 in the third quarter and ran away and hid from the Arkays in the final stanza.

Penalties played a big part in the scoring but worked in reverse for the Shamrocks.

After the game had been held up for about five minutes in the fourth quarter when Davidson jumped Art Green from behind and wasn't shunted off to the sidelines until he had creased Green's neck with his stick for a second time, Shamrocks found themselves playing three men to four. This came about when Darrell Popham and Steve Rynoski each received penalties for their part in the "Davidson-going-Indian affair.

OUTSMART ARKAYS

With Duff McCaghey, Arnold Ferguson and Norm Coates holding the fort, Shamrocks fired in two fast goals while shorthanded. Ed Hamson finally broke clear to get Richmond's eighth and last goal but Rynoski stepped out of the penalty box to take a long pass from McCaghey and put the game beyond doubt with Shamrocks 13th marker.

Coates was the leading marksman for the Victorians with three goals, while Booth and Rynoski each scored a pair. Andrews after his shaky start held the Arkays to but one goal in each of the last three periods.

Coach Eddie Powers of the Richmond squad offered no excuses in defeat. "We asked the refs to call 'em tougher and although it may have been overdone a bit, it wasn't any officiating that beat us," he said.

However, Richmond players were hopping mad in the dressing room and promised sweet revenge for the Shamrocks when next they meet. That game will be Wednesday night at the Memorial Arena.

Navy Suffers Second Shutout In Boxla Loop

What was once regarded as quite a feat—a shutout in lacrosse—is becoming commonplace in the local Senior B League.

Last night Ain Thompson of Foul Bay did the trick and again it was the hapless Navy squad who was the victim.

Rapidly establishing a record for failure to score goals, the sailors have now gone two full games without once denting the twine behind an opposing goalkeeper. They did get four goals in the first two games.

Naturally, Foul Bay won the game. The score: 20 to 0.

Meanwhile, Jokers ran their league-leading total to eight points in four games by nipping Tillicums 6 to 3.

The result of the two games puts Foul Bay and Tillicums in a tie for second place with Jokers four points to the good and Navy a hopeless last.

Al Hudson, the league's leading scorer, paced Foul Bay with three goals and two assists. John Makowski also scored a trio.

SOFTBALL EXHIBITION

The Navy fire department softball team will play Langford's volunteer fire department nine in an exhibition game at Belmont High School grounds Sunday at 2.

MACFARLANE REGISTERS DOUBLE WIN

Just Misses Two Records In Track Events At Dublin

DUBLIN (Reuter) — Bob Macfarlane, Canadian track star from London, Ont., who beat Arthur Wint in the White City 440 yards Monday, raced Wednesday night for the first time on grass, at Dublin's Alnsdown Road, and scored two victories.

In two events, the 440 and 300 yards, he went within three-tenths of a second of taking over records held by D. Bolen, United States Olympic runner, and McDonald Bailey, the Trinidad and British Olympic star.

In the 440, Macfarlane was fully extended to win by four yards in 48.8 seconds. Bolen's record of 48.5 was made last year.

Macfarlane sportingly agreed to run in an extra event, the 300 yards, and took on the star French sprinter E. Bally, who had won the 100.

Bally was the early pacemaker and had a five-yard lead on the Canadian coming into the last bend. But Macfarlane's strength pulled him through in a pulsating finish, in which he led by two feet in 31 seconds. The record established by Bailey last year was 30.7.

MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL ATTENDANCE STILL DROPS

NEW YORK (AP)—Whether it's the weather, television or lack of ready cash, big-league baseball attendance continues to dip.

Last year the average attendance for a major league game through April and May was 18,123. This year it's 15,714. That represents a 13 per cent decline.

At this date a year ago the two majors had drawn a total of 5,056,425 as compared to 3,928,509. This is a 22 per cent drop. However, the clubs have been able to play only 250 home dates this spring compared to 279 last year.

Only club of the 16 majors to show an increase is Philadelphia Phillies. Buoyed by the fine early showing of Eddie Sawyer's crew, the Phils attracted 219,773 at home in their first 14 deaths. Last year they had 210,785 for 19 dates. True, the increase is not startling but it is an increase.

Bill Parnell To Run At Baseball Benefit

One of the features at the big benefit baseball game at Athletic Park on Saturday night will be the appearance of British Empire Games track champion Bill Parnell.

Parnell won't play baseball though he could probably do as well as some of the other performers will do. He will run an exhibition mile race against Olympic miler Cliff Salmond of the "Y" track and field club.

Two high school runners will also take part in the race and will be given handicaps.

In case you don't know who Parnell is, he's the lad who set a new record in winning the mile championship at the recent Empire Games. He's at present in Victoria working out with Empire games track coach Bruce Humber and members of the "Y" team.

The baseball game—the game of the year for one group—finds the Old Timers, 35 or 40 strong, meeting the Victoria High School team. Proceeds will be shared between the Manitoba Relief Fund and the high school tennis courts fund.

Hollywood roosts atop the Pacific Coast League heap today by a precarious percentage margin of .003.

As third-place Oakland slugged front-running San Diego, 20 to 8, the movieland lads slipped into the lead with a 3 to 1 victory over Sacramento.

Oakland fell behind San Diego, 6 to 3, but countered with nine runs off Al Olsen and Jack Saltzman in the third and kept right on going. Billy Herman hit a homer with bases loaded in the big frame.

England's Best To Play Here Tonight

Stan Matthews Will Perform; Kickoff At 7

Tonight's the night that all soccer fans have been waiting for.

The English Football Association eleven against Victoria All Stars.

Game time is 7 at Athletic Park and a full house is promised judging from the advanced ticket sale.

With everyone conceding victory to the tourists by a comfortable margin but still giving the locals that one hope of an upset the game tonight marks the high point in soccer for the year.

For a time Wednesday it was rumored that Stanley Matthews, the great English winger, would not likely see action here. But all doubts were dispelled last night when he was named to start on the right flank. Johnny Hancocks, a real "five-by-five" and the man who scored all four goals for England in the tie game at Vancouver Tuesday starts on the other wing.

Another change in the visitors line-up from the team that was held to the amazing four-all draw on the mainland sees Jimmy Taylor starting at centre half.

Taylor is one of the two players, Matthews being the other, who will fly to Rio de Janeiro for the world soccer tournament.

Meanwhile, there's another team to be considered. It's Victoria All-Stars.

No changes have been announced by team manager Tommy Restell from the starting squad named earlier in the week.

GUESTS AT BANQUET

Officials and members of the English team were extended an official welcome to Victoria at a dinner last night at the Empress Hotel arranged by the local soccer commission. Mayor Percy George greeted the visitors and extended the city's hospitality following which he introduced Aldermen Waldo Skillings, Frank Mulliner, Percy Scurrah, Charlie Banfield and Duncan McTavish. H. Richards, chairman of the Barnsley Football Club, replied for the English team.

Others present were members of the Victoria All-Stars, city and B.C. football officials and representatives of the press.

Phil Scott Off To Australia

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP)—Phil Scott, 50-year-old former British heavyweight champion, has sailed for Australia with his wife and four children "to begin life anew" as a farmer.

Scott, who fought many times in the United States, said he is not giving up his interest in boxing.

"If I can find any promising youngsters out there I will certainly take them in hand."

He has held various jobs in Britain in recent years.

Surprising Toweel New Ring Champion

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UP)—A meteoric rise virtually without equal in ring history today gave the Union of South Africa its first world boxing champion — 23-year-old carpenter Vic Toweel.

The stocky, black-haired, lantern-jawed fighter completed his 16th month of professional fighting by lifting the world bantamweight crown from the brow of American Manuel Ortiz last night by a 15-round one-sided decision.

"I guess he'll keep the title a long time," admitted the downcast Ortiz. "This Vic's that good."

Toweel's triumph over the hard-hitting Mexican-American from El Centro, Cal., was a case of the "Fancy Dan" whipping the "slugger." After the first couple of rounds of "feeling each other out," Toweel speeded up and fought circles around the 33-year-old defending champion. Ortiz kept trying in vain to catch up.

Ortiz did get in a few good licks in the ninth round, a barrage of hooks to the head that had Toweel groggy—but they weren't enough and the young man's stamina was too great.

Toweel, who lives in Benomi, a suburb of Johannesburg, never has lost a fight as a professional and claims he never has been knocked off his feet as a pro or as an amateur.

Builders Rally To Nip Gasmen

Island Building Supply last night defeated Pitzer and Nex, 7 to 4, to take the leadership in the Colwood and District Senior B Men's Softball League.

The game was highlighted by a five-run ninth inning for the winners. Clarke hit the big blow for the builders, a two-run triple. John Oliver of the Supply nine struck out 11. Fred Led was the loser.

Double Figures Mark Returns At Calgary Track

CALGARY (CP) — "Box-car" payoffs featured the racing at the Exhibition course here Wednesday as a large half-holiday crowd witnessed a fine program under excellent weather conditions.

Pepper Pot started the parade of longshots in the second race when he paid $28.45 and completed a daily double from the favored Lady A.A. which was worth $220.15. Fairmond Lady continued the trend in the third with a $24.70 return, then Fair Ida won the fourth to pay $42.85 straight.

Peniquest captured the first of the two main races on the card when she caught the pace-setting Baby Broom at the final turn in the 6½ furlong Star of Asia and easily drew away to a 3½ length win. Baby Broom just lasted to save the place by a nose from Meander In.

The second of the features, known as the Koh-I-Nor, went to Sierra Mac, who withstood a furious drive from the favored Briar Pat through the stretch and won by a nose in a photo finish. Spangled Belle was a distant third, six lengths back.

The quinella paid $19.40.

Cycling Club To Stage Time Trial

Victoria Cycling Club will stage a time trial over the Beacon Hill circuit tomorrow night, starting at 6.30. Lawrence Wyatt will be the timekeeper.

A training meet has been arranged for Sunday morning at 10 at the Langford Speedway. Rusty Peden, former six-day bike rider, will be on hand to instruct riders.

Hard-Playing Tactics Of B.C. XI Came As Surprise To Touring Team

"This is a little better," Reg Flewin, captain of the English Football Association touring team, said when he set foot on the turf at Athletic Park for the first time Wednesday afternoon.

Flewin was thinking about the hard surface pitch at Callister Park in Vancouver when he uttered those words, the English team having played a gruelling 4 to 4 tie with the B.C. All-Stars the previous evening.

It was the first game of a three-game B.C. exhibition series for the Football Association eleven, which team plays here tonight against the Victoria representative team at Athletic Park, winding up the tour with another match at Callister on Saturday.

Asked what he thought about the Callister grounds, Flewin said: "It was awfully hard to play on. We're not used to such conditions."

Flewin, who is centre half for the English side, said the All-Stars played a "hard game." He also pointed out that members of the English team could take no unnecessary chances especially on a field like Callister.

"This is our livelihood," he said, "and any injuries suffered on the trip may keep the lads out of their team's line-ups when they get home. They can't afford that especially as we will only have a few weeks off following the tour before starting next season's league play.

Questioned as to the style of play in British Columbia, Flewin expressed the opinion that the referees probably had a slightly different interpretation of the rules than what the English players were used to at home. By a "hard game" Flewin meant a more rugged style of play.

FASTER PLAY

"Play is faster at home," he said, "and as a result there is less bodily contact. No one minds having the ball taken away cleanly but being knocked down on that hard ground leaves the player slightly on the defensive.

He also pointed out that the prime object of a team representing the Football Association was to give an exhibition of football as played in the Old Country and any tendency towards rough play was frowned upon. "It isn't worth it," he said.

The captain of the Portsmouth league championship club admitted that for a time it appeared they might be beaten. "I couldn't see the tying goal coming," he said. "That is until the penalty kick."

Asked to pick a standout performer for the B.C. team, Flewin had no hesitancy in singling out left fullback Alan Sawyer. "He played a sound game," Flewin said. Both the centre half and right half (Wes Henderson and Nick Glover) also drew praise from the quiet, soft-spoken Englishman.

Flewin was a busy individual on Wednesday. Brought to Victoria mainly through the efforts of Harry Young, Island director of the Pacific Coast League and Times Magazine editor, and George Grant of the Department of Physical Education, Flewin spent the morning demonstrating soccer fundamentals to students at Esquimalt and Mount View High schools.

In the afternoon he gave a further demonstration of advanced tactics before a large crowd of students and coaches at Victoria High School.

It is Flewin's first visit to Canada as it is for nearly all of the team. He noted a lack of organization particularly in eastern Canada, especially in Quebec.

FROM THE FANSTAND

By PETE SALLAWAY, Times Sports Editor

Tonight Victorians will turn out to watch England's touring footballers in action. Majority of the fans will go to the match with the feeling the outcome is a foregone conclusion but hoping the local boys will make a good showing against the visitors. That the Englishmen are not invincible was well proven Tuesday night in Vancouver when the B.C. All-Stars gave them a real scare. From all reports the touring players were fortunate to come out with a draw, two of their goals coming from penalty kicks.

Will Take No Chances Tonight

That the English team are not a little bit worried over their showing in Vancouver is evidenced by the fact they called a brief workout this morning for those players not seeing action tonight. After Tuesday night's game there was a hurried conference and plans made for tactics talks. It was felt the English players were suffering from a let-down after the long train trip across the continent.

That draw in Vancouver will certainly have put the Englishmen on their toes. And the Victoria eleven is likely to experience the full blast of the touring club's power tonight. It's a cinch they will be taking no chances.

Of course the real test will come Saturday when the English team and B.C. All-Stars meet in a return engagement on the mainland. There'll be no punches pulled in that one. The English players will certainly be out to regain lost prestige. And the B.C. boys will have added confidence as a result of the first-game tie.

That Softball Controversy

There has been quite a lot of controversy in local softball circles in recent days over the scoring of a play that took place in a recent senior A men's fixture. It concerned a batter hitting a single at the same time a runner was called out for the third out of an inning for leaving his base too soon on a pitched ball and what would happen to the batter the next inning.

Some were of the opinion that the batter would be credited with a base hit and the batter following him would bat first in the next inning. Others said the inning would automatically end and the batter who had singled would bat first the following inning.

No Base Hit Correct Ruling

My assistant Bill Walker did quite a bit of thumbing through the softball rule book and comes up with the statement that those in the latter category are correct. According to rule 23, part 10, of the rules entitled "Ball in Play," the ball is in play when the base runner is called out for leaving his base too soon.

However, under a sub-section of section three of rule 13 it states: "When the third out in an inning may be the result of a base runner leaving his base too soon on a pitched ball and the basman is put out or becomes a base runner on the same pitch, the same batsman shall be the first batter in the next inning."

Canadian Title Bout At Vancouver Monday

VANCOUVER (CP)—Dreams of retiring with a sporting goods store plus a title will be behind the punches of Montreal's Lou Alter when he clashes June 5 with Vancouver's Frankie Almond for the Canadian 126-pound championship.

Proceeds from the title fight will be turned over to the Manitoba Relief Fund.

Stocky Lou has been knocking on the title door for so long it has developed into a main event with the door taking the duke every time.

Twice he got into the ring with just — retired-champ Jean Richard and twice he whipped him—but each time the crown was not at stake. It seems Jean was leary of the Montreal battler when his title was showing.

So he traveled around fighting the best featherweights in the game. He drew with former-world-champ Sandy Saddler over four rounds and then came back to beat him in six. Saddler is rated as the leading contender for Willie Pep's title.

Lou has it figured to a couple of more years in the ring and then the little sporting goods shop. That Canadian title, if he can stop Almond, will make things rosy, cozy and doughsie.

Manchester In California Win

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Manchester United soccer team, one of England's top-notch aggregations, breezed to an easy 7-to-1 victory last night over a picked team of Los Angeles all-stars.

It was 6 to 1 at half time, and Manchester obviously eased up in the second stanza. Jack Delaney led Manchester with two goals, while singletons were kicked by Jack Rowley, Tom Lowry, Carl Mitten, Benny Birch and Johnny Downie.

Propst Goes After Third Mound Win

Southpaw Jim Propst with two wins under his belt will get the nod from manager Marty Krug in Vancouver tonight as the A's take on the Capilanos in the second of their five-game W.I.L. series on the mainland.

Last night the Caps broke a four-game win skein for the A's as rookie Kevin King, a southpaw, blanked the club with a six hitter, 7 to 0.

Joe Mishasek was the victim, and although he couldn't have won as things turned out, his teammates didn't help with some far from brilliant fielding.

Mishasek hurled well enough, and it was still a ball game at the seventh with Vancouver on top 4 to 0. Three runs in the eighth with catcher Al Ronning helping matters along put the issue beyond doubt.

Bob McLean homered for the Caps.

Salem's mound ace, John Tierney, finally got himself No. 8 last night—a two-hit pitching job which nipped the league-leading Tacoma Tigers 2 to 1. The victory left Salem six games back of the pace setters in the runner-up spot.

Spokane edged Wenatchee 3 to 2 and Tri-City topped Yakima 6 to 4 to narrow the gap between the third-place Wenatchee Chiefs and Spokane to a slim one and one-half games.

Ward Rockey, the ex-collegian, pitched and batted Spokane to its third straight edge over Wenatchee. The former W.S.C. ace gave the Chiefs but seven hits and drove in Frank Matoh with the winning run in the ninth when he came to bat with the bases loaded.

Softballers In Another Ruckus

If you've got a beef take it up to Central Park. Everyone else does.

Last night at the Pembroke and Vancouver Street diamond all the players on Douglas Tire and B.C. Forest Products softball clubs, team officials and good number of fans got into the act and the only matter decided was the softball game which went to Douglas Tire, 8 to 4.

For over two hours the wrangling took place Fiori Goegan of Douglas Tire and Ray Crabbe of Forest Products weren't around at the finish. They had had their say and it was too much for umpire Len Seton. But it could have been worse. Others should have been on their way, too.

Douglas Tire did all its scoring in pairs, getting two runs in each of the second, third, fifth and eighth innings. Forest Products connected for all their runs in the sixth. Norm Martin got the win and Crabbe the defeat.

Friday night Brentwood Aces meet Bluebird Cabs at 6.30.

Short score follows:

	R.	H.	E.
Forest Products	4	6	3
Douglas Tire	8	9	4

Crabbe, Jackson (3) and Smith; Martin, Gunter (9) and Harris.

Player Back, Umpires Quit

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The Mexican Baseball League had a whole new set of umpires today —all because of an American shortstop, Othello Renfroe.

Renfroe knocked out an umpire May 2, was fined an expelled from Mexico. Torreon, which holds his contract, arranged for Renfroe to be readmitted. He played last week in Guadalajara.

The association of umpires which had been officiating for the Mexican League refused to umpire any more games if the league let Renfroe play. Yesterday the league contracted with a rival group of umpires, the Colegio de Arbitros, to call the plays.

Rated Players Dominate City Women's Golf

Favorites continued to dominate play in the annual city women's golf championships Wednesday with Mrs. Margaret Todd and Mrs. H. T. Matson leading the field into today's semi-finals.

Defending champion and tourney medalist, Mrs. Todd yesterday defeated Mrs. G. E. Harris, 6 and 5, while Mrs. Matson of Colwood, downed Mrs. W. S. Smith, 5 and 4.

Meeting Mrs. Todd today is Miss Elizabeth Paynter of Colwood, who defeated Mrs. H. McIntyre, 1 up. Other semifinalist is Mrs. R. K. Beairsto, victor over Mrs. Art Dowell by a 2 and 1 count.

Finals will be played Friday.

Toppers Score

In a women's softball game Wednesday night Toppers nosed out Moose, 6 to 5, scoring the winning run in the final inning. Moose led 5 to 1 after two innings, but Toppers staged a smart comeback to pull the game out of the fire.

Chris Boyd contributed a home run and triple for the winners.

It was filmed for the most part in Ensenada, Mexico, and on the Pacific Ocean outside of that port.

Odeon Theatre

Margaret Sullavan, Wendell Corey and Viveca Lindfors are starred in Columbia Pictures' "No Sad Songs For Me," opening today at the Odeon Theatre. Featured in the film are Natalie Wood, John McIntire, Ann Doran and Richard Quine.

Royal Theatre

Van Johnson and Elizabeth Taylor make their first appearance together on the Royal screen as the stars of "The Big Hangover," M-G-M's novel comedy of a guy who goes haywire at the first sniff of spirits, and the girl who cures him.

Capitol Theatre

Mistress of the barbed insult and caustic comment, to say nothing of the insolent innuendo, comedienne Eve Arden is a natural choice whenever producers are casting a role that calls for verbal mayhem with a smile. Ever-lovin' Eve is currently lending her acid-tongued talents to Paramount's "Paid In Full," a Hal Wallis production currently at the Capitol Theatre.

HOLLYWOOD REVIEW

Cyrano Nose Created For Ferrer Called Big Success

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — After two months and 200 noses, they've finally found a schnoz for Cyrano.

Hollywood has always had a yen for superlatives, whether they have concerned the physical attributes of Joe E. Brown, Eddie Cantor, Clark Gable or Jane Russell. So when it came to filming the story of Cyrano de Bergerac, the big-beaked hero of literature, the search for a nose had to be a big thing.

Producer Stanley Kramer assigned make-up technician Gus Norin and his sculptor-father, Josef Norin, to the job. They carried out project with the thoroughness of nuclear physicists.

"It's always a problem with prosthetic (artificial parts fitted to the body) devices," said Gus. "The nose has to fit the face perfectly or the dramatic illusion is lost."

The Morins made a plaster cast of the face of Jose Ferrer, who will star as Cyrano. Then some 200 noses were designed.

"It had to be just the right nose," said Ferrer. "'Cyrano' is a tragic comedy, so the nose could not be tragically grotesque, nor thorough laughable. It had to fit the character—a gallant man handicapped by a monstrous nose. He was a man big enough to sit in a room alone and laugh at the size of his own nose."

HUMOROUS PROBOSCIS

The actor pointed at some of the sketches of rejected schnozzles. "That's a Basil Rathbone, that's a Louis Calhern," he'd say. "And this one is so large that the man would retire from society entirely."

Finally he came to the acceptable one. "Ah, that is the nose," he said. "See how the base of it points straight out, as though shooting at the moon. And yet it narrows out at the end so that it is profoundly humorous."

EVERYTHING BUT SWEAT

The Ferrer sniffer will be adorned by a secret-formula plastic. It is a material which the Norins have used to simulate facial features removed by surgery from ordinary citizens.

"It blends right into the skin," said Gus. "It is movable and expressive. It will do everything but sweat."

'Detectives' Trail Radio Disturbance

Electric heating pads can set up astounding noises J. St. E. Meiss, chief inspector in the radio branch of the Department of Transport, told a luncheon meeting of the Victoria Electric Club.

Mr. Meiss blamed all household appliances for the greatest interference. He said he and his men are in effect "air-wave detectives" charged with the duty of locating electrical disturbances.

Condensers could be installed in most cases to overcome radio interference, he said.

Goodbye Vests, Says Expert

HAMILTON, Ont. (BUP)—If you prefer loafing to working take heed of the fate of the vest.

According to the old rhyme: "The coat and pants do all the work; but the vest gets all the gravy." As a result the vest has almost disappeared.

James Firth, co-chairman of the National Council of Associated Clothing Manufacturers, said that the demand for the three-piece suit has dropped to almost nothing. The trend to lightweight summer suits revealed that the vest was superflous, Firth said.

The disappearance of the vest, however, has raised a serious problem. It has slashed the number of pockets men can used to store old ticket stubs, forgotten memos and the other necessities of everyday life.

Hens Kill Snake

CRADOCK, South Africa (CP)—Twelve black hens belonging to a farmer here attacked and killed a snake 3½ feet long. Hearing the hens making a noise, the farmer found the hens busy fighting the snake.

Annual Gymkhana On Mainland Card

The seventh annual horse-show and gymkhana, sponsored by the West Vancouver Lions Club, will be held at Ambleside Park, on Saturday, afternoon and evening, June 17.

Entry forms and prize lists are now available and local horsemen wishing to enter are requested to communicate with Mrs. Lois Tickell, 1891 Duchess Avenue, Hollyburn, West Vancouver, B.C.

Canadian Horse Shows Association rules will prevail.

BRITISH WAR MINISTER NO AMATEUR NOW

JERANTUT, Malaya (Reuter)—Clad in jungle-green battledress, John Strachey, 48-year-old British War Minister, plunged Wednesday into the murky depth of a jungle with a Ghurka patrol.

He carried a rifle—and he was under military orders.

Communist guerrilla bands were known to be in the area.

"If we meet any, get down on your stomach and fire," Strachey was ordered.

White Bread No Food For Dogs

EDMONTON (CP) — If you love your dog, don't feed it white bread. Or cake or pie or cookies, either.

That's the advice of an Edmonton veterinarian who says dog owners probably show their best appreciation of man's best friend when they feed it commercial canned dog food.

But if you must feed your dog bread, be sure it's brown bread, the vet says. White flour such as used in making white bread, cakes, pies and cookies causes degeneration of the nerve cells of a dog's body.

As far as scientists can discover, this effect of white flour is evident only in the nervous systems of dogs. Cats and most other animals, as well as humans, seem to be immune to it.

Ontario Tightens Rules, Cutting Pensions Of 8,000 Aged Citizens

TORONTO (CP) — Between 7,000 and 8,000 of Ontario's 90,000 old age pensioners will have their pensions reduced, because the Ontario government says it previously has been too lenient in enforcing federal regulations.

This was the explanation at Queen's Park of reductions in pension cheques disclosed Wednesday. An official of the provincial old age pensions commission said "we have been lax and they (the pensioners) have been lucky. We were trying to give a break to old people who had been thrifty or who were trying to earn a little on their own initiative."

The amounts due those affected may be reduced from $40 a month to as low as $7.

For years the Ontario government has not been enforcing section 11A of the Federal Act and as a result the aged in this province received maximum pensions. But federal auditors last December completed an investigation of the Ontario system and as a result it was suggested Ontario enforce the regulations.

In the case of a home owner, 4 per cent of the assessed value of his home now must be regarded as income, deducted from his pension. If the home is valued at $2,500, for instance, the deduction is $100 from the maximum annual pension of $600.

In the case of a pensioner receiving income from rental of rooms, one-third of that income is deductible.

Ontario government officials claimed that even with imposition of the full regulations, this province still has the most lenient pension regulations. British Columbia, Alberta and Manitoba deduct 5 per cent of the assessed value of homes as income.

Of the 90,000 pensioners in Ontario about 16,000 have been receiving only partial pensions. This number now will be increased to 23,000 or 24,000.

CANADA RESEARCH SCIENTISTS TO DEVELOP GUIDED MISSILES

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada is among the world's leaders in supersonic research and soon her scientists will engage in design and development of guided missiles and faster-than-sound jet planes.

This was disclosed Wednesday by the Governor-General, Viscount Alexander, as he officiated at the placing of the cornerstone at the new high-speed aerodynamics building on the Montreal Road site of the National Research Council, on the eastern outskirts of Ottawa.

The new laboratory, expected to be in operation late this year, will be one of the most modern in the world, capable of simulating speeds up to 3,000 miles an hour for the testing of futuristic aircraft models.

Tall People Seek New Club Members

A committee designed to recruit new members and welcome them into the newly-formed "Western Heights" club, has been named.

The "Western Heights" organized for tall men and women here, has boosted its total to 30 members. Committee chosen includes Joyce Menzies, Tom Doswell and Edna Gauti.

Following a short business meeting next Tuesday, the club will bowl at the Capital City Bowladrome.

The verdict of the people again favors the London Life. Canadians last year, in purchasing the largest amount of life insurance on record, bought more from the London Life than from any other company—one-seventh of the total.

The London Life maintains a strong financial position, furnishes low cost insurance, and has developed a staff of capable representatives to serve the needs of its policyholders and the public.

RICH REVENUE FROM FINES

VANCOUVER (CP)—May was a record month here for traffic fines—an all-time high of more than $41,000.

A month-long traffic drive on motorists and pedestrians showed in the number of court cases, and many jaywalkers paid fines during the month.

City Water Commissioner Gifford M. Irwin Retires

City Council's special session on Elk Lake watershed Wednesday afternoon was the last day on the job for Gifford M. Irwin, city water commissioner, whose retirement on superannuation begins today.

Mr. Irwin joined the civic service in 1928 as assistant city engineer and in 1932 became acting city engineer and acting commissioner.

A native of Minnedosa, Man., Mr. Irwin is a graduate of McGill University, class of 1914, in civil engineering. He had come to B.C. first in 1904 and did much railroad and land survey work. He is a B.C. land surveyor.

His career was interrupted by the First World War, during which he served with the 2nd Canadian Heavy Battery and took a draft from Victoria as an officer from the 5th B.C. Coast Regiment. He was badly wounded in the arm in January, 1918.

In 1934 Mr. Irwin was promoted to combined office of city engineer and water commissioner. He relinquished city engineer duties in 1947.

"The city has grown a great deal since I came here in '28," he said.

Mr. Irwin who is 65, resides at 1580 Despard Avenue. He plans to take a good rest.

Annual dinner meeting of the Victoria Storage and Motor Carriers' Association at the Pacific Club elected W. Fulton, president, and J. M. Miller, secretary. There was general discussion for the benefit of the industry.

City's T.B. Patients Display Paintings

Art work of patients at the Jubilee T.B. Pavilion and St. Joseph's T.B. Villa is on display this week at the Jubilee centre. Pictures on exhibit were selected by patients from all produced during last six months. Patients at the two centres receive regular art instruction from Mrs. Joyce Swannell. Proceeds from the art showing will be used to buy art supplies.

Foreign Firms In West Germany

BONN, Germany (AP)—The Allied High Commission Wednesday night said it had agreed in principle on plans for reopening western Germany to foreign investments, which have been barred since the war.

The action apparently ends one of the occupation's longest disputes. It does not mean that foreigners can begin investing in western Germany at once. The commission called its plan one of "progressive relaxation of restrictions."

Details will not be announced until further talks with West German officials.

City, Chamber Differ On Fountain Traffic Control

Recommendation of the Chamber of Commerce directors that the city refrain from making the Fountain intersection roundabout permanent until after the peak traffic of summer, was not approved at a special City Council meeting Wednesday.

When aldermen expressed unawareness at the chamber directors' stand, Ald. Waldo Skillings remarked:

"Now that the chamber is meeting in secret conclave, as the City Council does sometimes, they are not getting as much publicity as they used to."

Council queried City Engineer Cyril Jones who said there was no doubt there would be more vehicles in summer but felt there would be no more at the present peak hours of 8 in the morning and 5 at night.

He outlined curb work that would be done, to be followed by repaving and modification of pavement grades. Council did not see fit to abandon the project, and will advise the chamber accordingly.

"It has been a surprise to me that traffic has moved as smoothly as it has with the present temporary set-up," commented Mr. Jones.

Inspection Round In Power Boat

Annual inspection trip of Vancouver Island and certain mainland points by D. A. Rose, inspector of weights and measures here, will begin June 6.

The trip will be made aboard the 40-foot power boat Clara Jean, which the government has chartered from W. A. Colquhoun, 305 Gorge Road West.

Skipper of the boat will be Cyril Gardner of Victoria, former navy officer.

The inspection will include a thorough check of all weighing and measuring equipment at such places as canneries, marine service stations and large general stores.

The trip, which gets under way next Tuesday, is the first of several such voyages to be carried out during the summer.

Victoria Daily Times

VICTORIA, B.C., THURSDAY, JUNE 1, 1950

on the TIMES

By ART STOTT

REMEMBER the story about the man who stood on a street corner and tried to sell dollar bills for a dime? Couldn't sell 'em. Everybody thought they were phoney.

It makes you think of bargains like that being missed by our citizens when you walk into a morning session of Dr. Alan Klein's course on recreation at the Y.W.C.A. this week. Victorians, who have an organization for almost everything are more than ordinarily interested in recreation. But they're staying away in droves. It's too bad. Klein knows his stuff. The relative few who have attended appreciate his knowledge and the easy way he has of giving information to them.

MAYBE OUR people interested in recreation are too busy with their own jobs to go to the sessions he holds. Maybe they're wrapped up too closely in their own hobbies. Maybe that makes them immune to the appeal of one of the best men in Canada in this particular field. There could be organizational deficiencies, too, of course. Probably the local committee could have gone after registrations more effectively, but any who wanted to learn at least had some tip-off on the series.

Wonder if the course was made too easily available, if more people would have gone if it had been harder to get in? Or has the public attitude to organized recreation spread to the recreation organizers—coax me?

They say you can't foist organized recreation on a community if the community doesn't want it. Is that our position? It might be healthy, at that. Perhaps it's time we went back a little to the practice of letting those who want recreation figure out ways of getting it. They needn't be obnoxious ways. That way the recreation-needing public wouldn't be getting something for nothing and might value it more.

* * *

THE MORE YOU think about undesirable comics, the more you appreciate the lack of a suitable substitute for them that is good and doesn't cost too much. Better-class pocket books meet the needs of the very young and the adult. The gap exists for the intermediate age group.

Some books to satisfy that age are coming off the presses in cheap editions. Huckleberry Finn and Tom Sawyer are among them. There may be some doubt about their fitness for youngsters 12 to 15, in the light of present-day criticism of reading matter, but they've been going a long time. Some of the animal stories also look highly suitable, but there aren't enough of them in the 25-cent range.

The public library has its stock of more expensively-bound books for the intermediates, but even there some scarcity is admitted. When the extensions to the present building have been completed, the intermediates will get a better play.

THAT WON'T end the problem, though. First of all, a man 12 years old doesn't want to slick up and go downtown everytime he wants something to read. And a man of 12 is going to feel a little insulted, perhaps, if he's directed to the intermediate section of the library. At that age, a fellow isn't interested in "kid stuff." He wants to feel adult.

The man in his early teens is going to want something pretty sensational, too. No use talking to him of mile-a-minute speeds that stood his father's hair on end. Speak to him, in his idea realm of space ships and rockets, about that pace and he'll wonder what caused the delay.

TAKE IT FROM another angle. The old "penny horribles" that marked the depth of reading depravity to the parents of his father's generation aren't going to cut much of a swathe with youngsters who have seen the newsreels and magazines dealing with Belsen and other atrocity centres. Pictures and stories presented in terms a child can understand have pushed back the screens that once hid the more hideous realities.

Figure that background for the youngster in his early teens. Then remember that at that age, when it comes to reading fare, boys want their steaks cooked rare—so the blood follows the knife. Add to that the modern writing technique, which aims at taking as much work as possible out of reading. Count in the lazy reception habits encouraged by radio, television and films.

Seem to be quite a few problems for those who want to guide intermediate reading. Encouraging, though, to realize the intermediates will grow up and out of these difficulties. Then they'll face the problems of the adult reader—if they still read.

Municipal Clerks' Officers Convene In City

'Talking Shop' As Sessions Get Under Way

Need For Economy In Municipal Government Urged By Minister

As economic an administration as possible was urged upon municipalities by Municipal Affairs Minister R. C. MacDonald at the opening session today of a two-day Municipal Officers' Association of British Columbia conference at Empress Hotel.

Nearly 100 delegates from villages, towns and cities throughout the province gathered for the 11th annual government-sponsored conference to discuss problems of administration.

It was the largest registration on record with several women and a larger percentage of younger men noted than in previous conferences. Mr. MacDonald told the gathering he did not want to see a return of the days of 1929-34 but urged economic administration.

"Municipal administration is far more important than that of the two parent governments," he said. "You are much closer to the people and their needs than legislators of provincial and federal governments."

BENEFICIAL TAX

Despite criticism of the sales tax, provincial government treatment of municipalities in B.C. was more generous than that of any other province in the Dominion, Mr. MacDonald said. He added that the sales tax would prove "one of the most beneficial taxes ever imposed."

URGES CO-OPERATION

He urged co-operation with the provincial government on the part of mayors and reeves and said some serious mistakes had been discovered by his department the past few years requiring orders-in-councils to rectify.

"We have had some instances of serious diversion of funds," he said, adding that some moneys to be used for one thing were used for another. "That is serious and if attacked by a ratepayer might have serious consequences."

Sinking funds and importance of good public relations in city and municipal halls were stressed.

The conference will conclude Friday night with a government-tendered dinner at the Empress.

Mayor Pays Tribute To B.C. Municipal Officers

One hundred municipal officers from points throughout British Columbia heard themselves described today as people who must "hide their light behind a bushel basket."

Paying tribute to the work of municipal officers, who are meeting at Empress Hotel in annual conference, Mayor Percy George told them they had been much maligned.

"In my position as chief magistrate in Victoria for six years, I have heard it to right and left of me regarding department heads," he said. "Fortunately in the last 18 months such criticism has been greatly on the decline. I, for one, enthusiastically received this lack of criticism on the part of the public.

"I hear nothing but commendation for the work you are carrying on now."

He referred to the local situation briefly when he said that recently reviewed reports of Stevenson & Kellogg, Vancouver firm of management consultants, revealed the high opinion the firm held of seven or eight Victoria department heads, whom they screened in a survey some time ago.

"Those reports were kept on ice until requested recently by a city council committee," he said.

Director Title Still Favored By Victoria Mayor

The title "municipal manager" was termed an "unfortunate" one today by Mayor Percy George.

Bringing the city's greetings to the annual conference of the Municipal Officers' Association of B.C., he advised the 100 delegates:

"If any of you have anything to do with such a matter in your localities have a director of administration if you like, but not a municipal manager."

At another point in his talk he referred to Victoria being "unique" in still another way, in that it went all across Canada to find a municipal manager, adding: "Perhaps because the mayor cannot do the job."

Monday Free For Government Workers, Others

Civil servants and City Hall workers will celebrate the King's birthday on Monday. Banks will also be closed, along with a few other offices.

F. N. Cabeldu, president of the Real Estate Board of Victoria has requested all board offices to close for the holiday. B.C. Electric workers will observe the holiday but all buses, both B.C.E.R. and Vancouver Island Coach Lines, will maintain ordinary schedules.

Although the King's actual birthday is not until Dec. 14, when he will be 55, the holiday is held at this time for two reasons —the King's birthday is too close to Christmas and the June date offers better weather.

All of the countries in the British Commonwealth will observe the holiday in government posts. Most holidayers will enjoy an outing in the sunshine, New Zealand and Australia will likely have a long week-end of winter sports as the winter season is in full swing there.

Plea Of Guilty Entered By One Of Two Arrested

Frederick L. Etherington, one of two men arrested after police had been alerted by two citizens Wednesday night, pleaded guilty in city police court today to attempting to break and rob a Fort Street store.

Carl C. Kibsgaard, charged jointly with him, elected trial in a higher court. Etherington chose trial before Magistrate H. C. Hall and then admitted his guilt.

Both cases were remanded to Tuesday.

Two unidentified men heard a window breaking at the rear of Stan-Fort Grocery, 1424 Fort Street, operated by John R. Watkis, 1842 Monteith Street, and went to investigate. Failing to catch them, they called police.

Accused, who appeared in court, were arrested a few minutes later by Constables Albert Harwood and Norman Galbraith at Fort and Elford Streets.

Chinatown Cafe Robbed Of $85

A burglar who broke into premises of Fan's Lunch, 568 Fisgard Street, overnight got $68 in cash, the proprietor told city police this morning.

Entry was gained by breaking a toilet window and forcing the door into the kitchen.

Pleading not guilty to a charge of assaulting and injuring a woman, Ralph L. Savage was remanded in city police court today to June 7 for trial. James J. Proudfoot appeared as counsel.

Biggest Building Month In Saanich Recorded During May

Oak Bay Pattern Unchanged As Permits Total $263,517

Saanich had its biggest building month in May when 108 permits were issued for work costing $327,765.

In Oak Bay last month, building of homes followed approximately the same pattern as the corresponding month in 1949.

Of the 108 Saanich permits, 63 were for dwellings worth $261,600.

During the same month last year, 106 permits were granted for $326,190 work and 69 of them were for homes worth $311,300.

Building in the municipality for the first five months of the year is $17,700 ahead of last year's activity in the same period.

Comparative five-month figures for the two years are:

1950—359 permits valued at $1,065,755, including 261 for dwellings worth $946,700; 1949—442 permits worth $1,048,055, including 243 dwellings worth $1,099,850.

OAK BAY HOUSES

Of 43 permits issued in Oak Bay last month (at a total value of $263,517), 19 were for houses totaling $183,200.

In May, 1949, 28 permits were issued (value $179,036), 18 of which were for houses worth $175,900.

A $65,000 permit for an apartment was issued last month, bringing the total for 1950 to four, with a value of $239,000.

Cumulative figures of building activity in the municipality show 130 permits worth $885,102 were issued during the first five months of this year. Of these, 65 were for houses valued at $600,439.

Corresponding figures from Jan. 1 to May 31 last year were 135 permits (value $681,303), 79 of which were for houses with a value of $611,895.

DANGER LEVEL ON B.C. RIVER

Maurice Finnerty, M.L.A. for Similkameen, reported here today the level of the Similkameen River at a dangerously high level.

Whether or not there is a flood depends entirely on the weather, the visiting member stated.

He said if there is a period of dry, cool weather, the danger period would pass, but if there are heavy rains there will be flooding.

Flood Relief Fund Passes $22,000 Mark

Contributions to the Mayor's Fund for Manitoba flood relief passed the $22,000 mark today.

At the same time the national fund neared the $3,000,000 mark. Quota is $10,000,000.

New Brunswick contributed $10,000 to Manitoba for the flood victims and another $10,000 to Quebec to aid the Rimouski and Cabano areas recently wiped out by fire.

The Victoria Little Theatre is presenting a play, "Fools Rush In," Friday, in aid of the Mayor's Fund, and Victoria High School is staging an outdoor show Saturday night. A special prom concert will be presented June 21 by the Victoria Symphony Orchestra.

War Pensioner's Cheque Stolen

John Ryder, 810 Courtney Street, reported to city police his disability pension cheque for $13.80 was stolen from the rooming house after the postman had delivered it May 29. The cheque was taken from a table just inside the door.

Reid Fund At $3,220 Today

The Reid Fund had reached a total of $3,220 this morning at the Saanich Municipal Hall, Royal Oak.

Indications are that the fund will top the $4,000 mark by the end of the week. Net proceeds from the Saanich employees' ball tomorrow night at the Saanich Agricultural Hall will be donated to the fund. The fund was started after Raymond Reid lost his wife and three youngest children in a fire that destroyed his Agnes Street home in the middle of May.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Hats And Purses Of Grass Smart And Cool For Summer

By PENNY SAVER

The next time you're out in the garden tying plants to stakes, whether it's tomato or double peonie plants, take a long, hard look at the material you're using. If it's raffia grass, take another look, because that's what a talented woman in this city is using to turn out the smartest in milady's hat wear.

An avid gardener herself, Peg was grappling with a piece of this fiber grass and an overgrown shrub, when she suddenly remembered seeing straw accessories in a fashion show some months previous. With her deft ability and the joy she receives in working with her hands, she thought that just for the fun of it, she'd try weaving a few belts and other accessories out of the raffia grass. By golly, it worked. The articles she made must have been good because her friends were soon on her track ordering more. So, she thought, why not try making a hat?

After a great deal of work, weaving designing, moulding, and experimenting with different dyes, she came up with a chic little model. It features an off-the-face brim with the most delightful looking curly kews, as it is only trimming. That did it! From then on, her choice in the matter meant little or nothing at all, to her women friends, who urged her to start making them for sale.

Now, instead of the raffia tying up her bonny green plants, great skeins of it take their place in her upper Broughton Street shop, where wheat colored grass is magically turned into bonnets of every shape, size and color.

For sports wear, Peg will make up, what I'd call, a golfer's delight for either men or women. It's light-weight hat with enough space between the open work of the weave, to allow coolness. Most important of all the hat sports a visor brim to keep the bright rays of sunshine out of your eyes.

To complete your new spring ensemble, my dear, this woman will go to any length to copy or create a hat just for you. If you've got a particular color in mind, something you're intent on matching up, take a wee color sample to her, and she'll try to accommodate you.

Did somebody say, how much is all this going to cost? Well, my dears, this is one time when the shape, size, and the number of butterflies, buttons and bows, will tally up on the price slip. The handsome number I longed to take home was $8.50. Not a bad price when you know at the end of this season, the little head topper won't just go "kaput." You'll get a few seasons out those hard-wearing bonnets!

Matching or individually styled purses too, are another of her attributes, and, as in the case of the hats, the price depends on the amount of work. They usually run about $5.

METROPOLITAN — Members of Metropolitan Young Peoples Union held their regular meeting Tuesday, in church school room. Arrangements were completed for holding a "Penthouse Party" at Brentwood on Saturday and everyone was asked to meet at the church at 8. Several members offered cars for transportation. Don Walker was chosen master of ceremonies, Doug Robinson to secure the pop and Irene Angus to buy refreshments.

IN STEP WITH STYLE

New Short Coiffures Demand Shining, Well-Tended Hair

Hair sparkling with health, fragrantly clean and satin soft to touch, can be a woman's most flattering accessory.

Attractive short coiffures, that hug the head, and give a provocative look to the face, are as important a part of the new fashions as any new trends in frocks or chapeaux.

Gleaming, healthy hair is a must when it comes to the head-hugging styles, and in warm weather, hair deserves to be pampered and tended as your most precious possession.

Hair is also a perfect barometer, a faithful mirror of your general condition, and just at this time of year is apt to show many unlovely flaws.

Dust and soot dull it, hats keep out sun and air, and in addition, permanent waves often dry out the natural oils, leaving frizzy ends.

Here's something new in the way of a summer pick up for your hair.

Simple and quick to use at home in your own bathroom, its a new silk-sheen hair conditioner and shampoo.

Start by washing your hair thoroughly with silk-sheen shampoo and rinse until your locks fairly "sing" to your touch.

While it is still wet, rub the scalp and hair with silk-sheen conditioner, and pay particular attention to ends of the hair if they are split, dry and harsh.

Then wring out a large soft towel from hot water, and wear it turban-fashion around the head, so that beneficial steam penetrates the hair and reaches the scalp.

In this way natural oils of your scalp, starved out by winter's abuse, are being replenished and at the same time, head cuticle that robs hair of its sparkle, is cleared away.

The final step is to rinse in clear water, then rub your hair briskly.

I.O.D.E. Memorial Ceremony

Smartly clad in white, 18 standard bearers, and representatives from 15 primary chapters and two junior chapters will attend memorial services conducted by Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, Sunday at 3 at the Cross of Sacrifice, Ross Bay Cemetery.

Rev. William Hills, former R.C.N. chaplain, will conduct the service.

Victoria City will be represented by Acting Mayor D. D. McTavish, who will lay a wreath at the foot of the memorial cross.

Mrs. C. L. Bishop, municipal regent, and chapter representatives will also present wreaths.

Mrs. W. L. Williams, provincial ex-service personnel convener, is in charge of arrangements.

DOROTHY DIX

Dear Miss Dix: Why is it that so many young girls and women try all of their schemes and wiles to get the attention of married men? Do they not realize the harm they are doing in alienating husbands and wives and breaking up homes and half-orphaning little children? I am not denying that the men are weak to fall for these scheming women. They are. But many a middle-aged man would never think of having an affair with a woman if she didn't make the first advances.

R. M.

ANWSER: Of course, there are many cases in which a woman, who is thrown either in society or in business with a man in whom she finds her ideal, falls in love with him. For this she is not to be blamed, since the heart is an unruly member over which we have no control.

MOTIVATED BY GAIN

But in the great majority of cases in which women, and especially young girls, havve affairs with married men they are actuated by the very sordid motive of gain. The married man is settled in business, he earns more money than a boy does and hence he is a better paying prospect. Also, he is easier to work, for he is flattered and flustered at the idea of a girl finding him romantic.

Mut it is true that nine times out of 10 when a sedate middle-aged man suddenly developes a wandering foot it is because some woman has signaled to him across the fence and made him jump the bars. That doesn't excuse him, of course. But it is just how it generally happens.

There are women who are adventuresses by nature and for whom married men have a fatal fascination merely because they are forbidden fruit. Just because a man belong to some other woman makes him more desirable to them than he would be if he were free. They get a sadistic pleasure in torturing the poor wife and watching her helpless jealousy as she sees her husband paying court to a girl half her age, far prettier than she ever was, and spending the money on her that ought to go to buy the children clothes and shoes. It does not concern them that they are breaking up homes and wrecking lives.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

If there were not a diversity of opinion and practices about toilet training there would be little use to discuss it. But there are many differences.

We still have mothers, who, following the dictates of older parents, hope to get quick release from the chore of diaper washing by starting toilet training early. The fact that in some few instances this training is successful, makes it the more difficult to convince parents that most of the time it is not.

It has become evident through psychoanalysis that the early emotions a child suffers when shamed or punished for wet or soiled panties, leave a life-long impression upon him. It colors his later estimate of sex life, which seemed in some way to be allied to it. It makes him cognizant of the power of the parent to punish him for acts for which he feels blameless (as he often is) and this resentment is carried over into other areas of communication with the parent. If he cannot be victorious in his toilet behavior he can defy the parent when she wants him to eat or sleep. And he does just that.

Knowing that there are unhappy aftermaths to toilet training, before the child is physically ready for it has led the modern pediatrician to advise no training until the 16th to 18th month. By this time, it is certain that the intelligent child will have reached a point of development, both mental and physical, when he can actively co-operate with the parent to be successful in achieving control. Then he may be taken to the toilet at regular but not too frequent intervals and he will be pleased to wait for this attention. This is the first step in training. If he is not punished for failuer, but reassured that in a short time he will be able to stay dry, he builds up no resentment toward the parent and is in a happy, co-operative mood.

Most of all the parent should be warned that even at these ages it is the exceptional child who knows his need far enough in advance to "tell" her of it. That is a later stage of development. If she can be satisfied with dryness, which is the result of her own alertness to the child's needs, she will find that eventually the child will say a word, or act in meaningful ways which will apprise her of his need.

Our leaflet No. 65, "Toilet Behavior," may be had by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

TODAY'S RECIPE

FROZEN PEACH SALAD SQUARES

Three-quarter cup canned cling peach slices, 2 (3-ounce) packages cream cheese, ¼ cup mayonnaise, 3 tablespoons lemon juice, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon paprika, ¼ teaspoon dry mustard, ½ teaspoon grated onion, ¼ cup finely chopped celery, salad greens for garnish.

Drain peaches and dice. Blend cream cheese with mayonnaise until very smooth. Stir in lemon juice and seasonings. Fold in peaches, onion and celery. Pour into refrigerator tray, place in freezing compartment with control set at lowest temperature and freeze without stirring until firm. Cut into squares and serve on salad plates garnished with greens. Serves six.

Salt Spring Clubs To Aid Flood Fund

A special meeting was held in Harbor House, Salt Spring Island, attended by representatives from many organizations including I.O.D.E., Chamber of Commerce, and Ladies Auxiliary to Canadian Legion, to discuss ways and means of helping the Manitoba Flood Relief.

Mrs. V. C. Best was named chairman and Mrs. R. Childerstone, secretary.

Members decided to hold a tag day on Saturday, and also to conduct a house-to-house canvass of Ganges and North Salt Spring during the week. Women's Institute members will be in charge of collection in the south end of the island.

Talented Woman Discovers She Is Water Diviner, Is Writing Book With Husband

By ELIZABETH FORBES

The interview was finished. We had merely stopped for a moment to admire the garden before driving away when Mr. Lomas said, "We'll never be without water on this place for last night my wife discovered a stream running right down through the property."

Photographer Bill Halkett and I looked where he was pointing but we couldn't see even a trickle of water.

Just grass, a few buttercups, camas and the oak trees.

"All she had in her hands was a coat hanger," Mr. Lomas continued. "What do you think of that?"

"Never tried such a thing before," Mrs. Lomas broke in with a pleased little laugh. "Had no idea I could do it. Would you like me to show you?"

We walked across the garden to where a rusty old coat hanger was dangling from a tree.

"Thought you had to use a willow wand for this sort of thing," Bill Halkett muttered in my ear.

"Sssh!" I muttered right back. "A coat hanger will make a much better story."

A HIDDEN STREAM

By this time Mrs. Lomas had grasped the bit of metal she had shaped in a wobbly sort of way to simulate a divin ing rod or a forked willow stick and she was walking back and forth across the grass.

Suddenly she stood still. The coat hanger began to bend further and further toward the ground.

"There's the water," Mr. Lomas said, "and by the way it's pulling it must be quite a stream."

Mrs. Lomas showed us her hands, reddened and marked with her effort to control the metal rod.

"You try it," she said.

So I dutifully paraded back and forth but the metal rod in my hands was just a rusty coat hanger as far as I was concerned.

Bill Halkett took it next, with an expression on his face that said, "This is all a lot of foolishness but I guess I'll string along."

Then Mrs. Lomas grasped my right hand with her left, and with our two free hands we each grasped an end of the coat hanger and walked back and forth across the lawn.

Again the metal point dipped suddenly—and hard.

I was convinced.

For my money Mrs. Lomas is a water diviner. And even if she did only discover her talent two days ago, when I want to locate a hidden stream or dig a well I'm going looking for her and her coat hanger.

INTERESTING COUPLE

Which is all beside the point. For I really started out to get a story about a charming couple, who came to Victoria from South America only six weeks ago.

Three weeks ago they bought a home at 3650 Blenkinsop Road and although Mr. Lomas is only on leave from his work as chief equipment engineer with a Venezuela telephone company they hope to make their home here.

"If we can get used to your climate," Mrs. Lomas says.

And Mr. Lomas adds, "And if I can find something to do. I certainly don't want to retire yet."

Prior to going to Venezuela, Mr. Lomas, an Englishman, spent 23 years in India with a Bombay telephone and communications company. And he was presented with the Order of the British Empire for exceptional work in communications completed in India during the war.

Mrs. Lomas claims Ireland's Tipperary as her birthplace.

Mr. A. E. Lomas, O.B.E., and Mrs. Lomas, world travelers, would like to make Victoria their home.

She was educated in Paris and at London University, received a Cambridge honors teaching diploma, and then went out to Ceylon to lecture in psychology and literature, in girls' colleges there.

For some years she was principal of a Buddhist girls' college and later was attached to the Ceylon educational department, traveling around the island and lecturing at various centres.

Many times, she tells you, in order to sketch the background of events she gave her pupils not only literature and psychology but history, geography art and dramatics as well.

She also prepared many young Sengalese for Cambridge varsity.

WORK WITH EVACUEES

It was just before the last war that Mr. and Mrs. Lomas were married and while he was busy with war communications work, she continued educational work in Bombay, among young British boys and girls, sent out to India by their parents for the duration.

The past four years the couple have spent in Venezuela.

Now they are beginning to think of taking life a bit easier, relaxing more and perhaps develeping several talents that have nothing to do with water divining, teaching or with telephone communications.

For Mrs. Lomas has a flair for writing and also for painting. And Mr. Lomas has two major hobbies, color photography and cabinet making.

At present they are collaborating on a travel book with Mrs. Lomas doing the story and her husband the color pictures.

"It is about the islands we have visited and loved," Mrs. Lomas tells you, and lists Ceylon, the West Indies and the Barbadoes, with special mention of Granada and Tobago.

Their years in Asia have given this interesting couple another shared interest, which is a love of Oriental culture; Mr. Lomas expressing a preference for the arts of India and Mrs. Lomas telling you she places Chinese mythology above all else.

CHINESE ART

Already she has unpacked a set of nine tiny horses beautifully carved in cherry wood that have a special significance in Chinese mythology. And she describes packing cases, still in transit, that are filled with Chinese objets d'art, including a table 500 years old, topped with porcelain hand-painted in delicate colors, and a set of porcelain wall plaques showing paintings of Chinese goddesses.

"When everything is unpacked you must come again," she urges.

During the interview we had been talking over cups of morning coffee that had a most intriguing flavor. When we stood up to go into the garden our hostess said, with a twinkle in her eyes: "Did you like that dash of mustard in your coffee? I learned that trick when I was a student in Paris."

As we drove back to the city, I said to Bill Halkett, "Imagine putting mustard in coffee! Tasted good, too!

"Never mind the mustard," he said; "imagine finding water with a coat-hanger!"

But we both agreed we'd had an interesting half-hour and we would like to interview Mr. and Mrs. Lomas again.

Mrs. G. Heinicky is now at her Vesuvius Bay home after a brief visit in Victoria with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Pattison.

A pink and white birthday cake topped with pink candles, centred the tea table when Mrs. H. W. Bradley gave a birthday party for her daughter, nine-year-old Jennifer, at her home, Booth's Canal, Salt Spring Island. Tulips and lilac decorated the rooms. Mrs. P. Cartwright and Mrs. A. Wolfe-Milner assisted the hostess, and a program of games was arranged for guests who included Mrs. M. Mouat and Daphne; Mrs. A. Kropinski and Andrzie Krzisztos and George; Mrs. A. B. Acland; and Sandra Bradley, Elaine McDonald, Daphne Reynolds, Jill Points, Sylvia Wagg, Elizabeth Wells, Marilynne Brown, Linda Neterfield, Sylvia Alywin, Ruth Brodie, Cameron Cartwright, Jerry and Pat Wolfe-Milner.

Mrs. A. J. Mollett entertained at a children's party at her home, Fulford Harbor, South Salt Spring Island, for her grandson, Raymond Fraser on his seventh birthday. Games were played on the beach and in the orchard, and later tea was served in the dining-room. The table was centred with a large pink and white cake. Guests were Mrs. R. H. Lee and Lois, George and Rhonda; Mrs. J. Hull with Barbara and John; Mrs. G. Catlin and Shawn; Mrs. L. Mollett and Teresa; Mrs. E. Lacy, Mrs. C. Lee with Sharron and Colleen; Heather and Leslie Fraser and Scott Alexander.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Warman and their two children have returned to their home in this city, after a few days' holiday with the former's mother, Mrs. Ross Young, Fulford Harbor.

UNDERSTANDING MOST ESSENTIAL PEACE FACTOR

BOSTON (AP)—The new leader of 11,000,000 American club women called today for a nation of "world size" citizens who can win peace through "understanding among nations."

It is not so much the atomic bomb but our mental attitude that is dangerous, she said.

Mrs. Hiram C. Houghton of Red Oak, Iowa, incoming president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, told the convention:

"We must be strong at home and strengthen our friends abroad, realizing that peace can come to the world only when there is understanding among nations.

"The things that is needed most in this country is Christian fellowship which the women of America must give to the women of the world."

Name Officers Principles Declared

MONTREAL (CP)—The Golden Jubilee Convention of the National Chapter of Canada of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire concluded last night with election of officers and a declaration of the order's ideals and principles.

Some 1,000 members from across Canada attended the week-long sessions.

A recruiting drive—especially in Canada's newest province, Newfoundland, was planned for the current year.

At final sessions, the order criticized the federal government for deleting the word "dominion" from the country's name.

It also protested a proposed amendment of the policy in selecting a representative of the King for Canada. The present system of choosing a governor-general provided a link with the Commonwealth and the Empire. The custom which existed since confederation should be continued, the order said.

Mrs. John H. Chipman, M.B.E., of Toronto was chosen president.

Mrs. J. G. Spragge, Toronto, was elected secretary and Mrs. Peter L. Robinson, Toronto, treasurer.

Echoes secretary is Mrs. Laurence Grout, Toronto, and standard-bearer is Mrs. B. J. Tupman, Saskatoon.

Tenth Biennial Convention At University Next Month

Problems and projects of the women's institutes will be subject of an address to be given by Mrs. S. E. Gummow, provincial superintendent, at 10th biennial convention of women's institutes of British Columbia at University of British Columbia, June 6, 7 and 8.

Women from 12 districts of the province and delegates and members from 213 institutes will be present.

Minister of Agriculture, Hon. Harry R. Bowman and Canadian federation president, Mrs. E. E. Morton, Vegreville, Alta., will speak at the banquet given by the British Columbia government in honor of official delegates, provincial and district members and provincial conveners the first night of the convention. Mrs. Bowman will be among guests.

The first afternoon, Dr. Blythe Eagles, Dean of Agriculture at the university, will act as chairman of a symposium on soil conservation, and the next morning Lloyd Detwiller, Commissioner of Hospital Insurance, will speak.

Mrs. Morton will address the afternoon session on home economics following which a tour of the new home economics building has been arranged with tea served later in Brock Hall, when women of Whatcom county attending the convention as special guests will be honored.

Mrs. R. J. Sprott, city of Vancouver alderman, will address delegates the final morning of the convention and in the afternoon there will be a demonstration of leather work.

Presiding at opening and closing sessions will be provincial president, Mrs. J. H. East, while vice-president Mrs. R. W. Chalmers and directors Mrs. E. Glover and Mrs. A. A. Shaw, will chair several sessions.

Report on Othoa Scott Trust Fund for crippled and infirm children and institute memorial fund will be given by provincial secretary, Mrs. R. Doe, in the secretary-treasurer's report.

Provincial conveners' reports will be given by Mrs. T. Olson, Terrace, agriculture; Mrs. Glover, Victoria, citizenship; Mrs. E. J. Greer, New Denver, home economics; Mrs. V. S. McLachlan, Hope, handicrafts, and Mrs. D. Fines, Pine View, Fort St. John, social welfare. Mrs. East and Mrs. Chalmers will report on federation meeting attended last year.

Twelve resolutions will be presented by resolutions committee, Mrs. V. B. Robinson, Penticton, and Mrs. J. D. McGuire, Salmon Arm.

TIMES DAILY SERIAL — By Rupert Hughes

FINGERPRINTS DON'T LIE

THE STORY: After Azalea Palmer found her father with his skull crushed by a desk telephone, Los Angeles police suspect her fiance, the sculptor Paul Moody, who had quarreled with the murder victim, Wendell Palmer, Police detective James Stivers has found fingerprints on the base of the phone which was used as a murder weapon and, in company with detective Pete Kelso, he goes to Moody's studio in search of fingerprints for comparison. While Stivers goes over the studio and Moody's living quarters, Kelso is left to his own investigations. But just as the police officers finish, Moody appears and is taken into custody.

X

Detective Pete Kelso laid a rough paw on Paul Moody's arm. It felt like marble. Paul shook it from his sleeve in a rage.

"Keep your hands off."

The young sculptor whirled toward Kelso and heard a click. Both his wrists were in handcuffs. He fought them in vain a moment, then yielded to force with a ghastly sense of helplessness. He made no resistance when Detective Stivers took his fingerprints on regular cards.

When the three left the studio for the police car, it was Paul who quieted the caretaker. When he saw Paul with steel gleaming at his wrists, the old man went berserk in a most brittle way. He was cackling curses when the police car drove off.

DECLARES INNOCENCE

Paul was permitted to telephone to Azalea Palmer from the station and found she had already learned of his arrest.

Without waiting for his denial of guilt, she cried "Oh Paul, darling! That this should happen to you!"

Her faith in him put something greater than joy in his voice as he called to her across the wire:

"God love you, you angel! You know I'm innocent. I couldn't hurt anyone you love as you loved your father—even though we quarreled. He drove me from the house, but—just so that you can hear me say it: 'I swear to God—I swear on my mother's grave—I swear on your sweet soul and our sacred love that I am innocent!' Don't cry! Be brave! Everything will come out all—"

He had meant to say "all right" but an impatient policeman took the telephone from him and led him away to a sweating process. The police questioned him for hours and hours. The third degree is against the law; but so is murder, so are many things that keep getting done.

It was part of their business to collect as much evidence as they could before their enemy, the lawyer, arrived. They spared Paul nothing.

They were furious at him for still refusing to confess, even when word came identifying his fingerprints on the base of the telephone. Then, so far as the police were concerned, Paul Moody was already on his way to execution.

NOT TO BE SHAKEN

To Azalea Palmer, Paul's voice, his mere word, had carried a conviction that no evidence could ever shake. Though she should one day stand outside the lethal gas chamber at San Quentin, and through its glass walls watch him breathe in the last stabbing vapor, she would go to her own grave believing him innocent, and loving him forever—as long as forever would last for her.

Her father's lawyer, old ex-Judge Harvey Colburn, was not a criminal lawyer except for corporations in trouble. He was convinced of Paul's guilt and counseled Azalea to give him up—for her reputation's sake if for no other reason. That only maddened her the more.

When she demanded the name of another lawyer to replace him, Colburn suggested Harry Hodges.

Azalea demurred: "But didn't I hear you say more than once that engaging Harry Hodges was equal to confessing one's guilt?"

"That's true. But since Moody is undoubtedly guilty, it can't do him any harm.'

Azalea rejected the suggestion with scorn: "No lawyer who thinks Paul is guilty is fit to represent him."

Colburn was going to retort: "No lawyer who thinks him innocent is fit to represent anybody." But one look into her fierce eyes frightened him away from any such answer, and he simply washed his hands of the affair with a gentle, "I'm afraid, my child, that you'll find it hard to find any such man."

And so she found it. The public had already elected Paul guilty by acclamation. He was a picturesque and popular candidate for public hatred.

Even Nadine Fennell, Azalea's best friend, was not at all persuaded of Paul's innocence; but she was so tortured by Azalea's suffering that she gave her whole thought to getting him free. She said to her father:

"Practically nobody is convicted of anything nowadays. Why should poor Azalea's fiance be the exception?"

FATHER INTERESTED

It chanced that Nadine's father, who loved Azalea like another daughter, knew something of a private very private detective named Martin Queripel, who had uncanny abilities as an analyst of evidence.

"Since the police detectives have built up the case against this man Moody," said Mr. Fennell, "what Azalea needs is a private detective to tear it down. Then any lawyer can win the case. Martin Queripel may be the man. He's got a reputation for preventing crime, and if Azalea's faith isn't misplaced, Queripel may be interested in preventing the awful crime of sending Azalea's sweetheart to death or prison for something he never did. Tell Azalea to try Queripel."

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

"Please tell us the percentage play in this hand," asked a Cincinnati reader. "It has caused quite a stir in our bridge club.

"West opened the four of clubs, East played the jack, and South won with the king. South then finessed the queen of spades with the intention of finessing diamonds on the way back.

"This plan did not work. East took the king of spades and returned a club. The defenders therefore took three club tricks and their spade before South could get started towards his contract. Eventually West made his king of diamonds, which defeated the contract.

"North claimed that declarer should have made his contract. He said that South, after winning the first trick with the king of clubs, should lay down the ace of diamonds and continue with a low diamond. The opponents could take one diamond and three clubs, but South would easily win the rest.

"South said this analysis was fine if you could see the cards and could therefore tell that each opponent had only four clubs. He said that a 4-4 split in clubs was against the odds. Therefore his line of play was better.

"Who is right?"

This is not the sort of question that should be answered on a "book" basis. The most important factor, which cannot be found in a mathematics text, is West's style as an opening leader. It seems clear that West has led from some clubs headed by the ace or by the ace-queen. Would West lead from a four-card suit of this type?

If South believes that the clubs are 4-4, he should go after the diamonds at once. If his belief is correct, he is sure to make the contract.

If South believes that West has more than four clubs, he must try to win nine tricks on the run. Risky though it may be, he must try to win finesses in spades and diamonds. If it turns out that the clubs actually are 4-4, South can afford to lose one of his two finesses.

We all know people who hate to lead from a four-card suit against a no-trump contract. They're willing to lead from a really long suit. If they don't have a really long suit, they'll try a three-card suit, or even a doubleton.

We also all know people who always lead their longest suit. If it's only four cards long, that's too bad; but they lead it anyway.

The big question in such a hand is: What kind of leader is West?

On a straight percentage basis, the two plays are almost equal. The odds are slightly in favor of going after the diamonds.

GIFTED YOUNG INDIAN

Judith Morgan's Work Featured In Gallery

By AUDREY ST.D. JOHNSON

The arts and crafts of the native Indians have an almost universal appeal, so it is a unique opportunity to be able to study and enjoy so comprehensive and choice display as will be found at the Arts Centre, Broughton Street, during the net three weeks.

The show which was opened Tuesday night by Chief Percy Ross of the Songhees Indians, is jointly sponsored by the Arts Centre and the B.C. Indians' Arts and Crafts Society. One of the aims of the latter body is to encourage the finest craftsmanship. Consequently, only the best work of its kind was chosen for this exhibition.

Coincident with the display of basketry, carving, beadwork, knitted articles, engraved silver jewelry and museum pieces, is a showing of 20 paintings, the work of Alberni's brilliant Judith Morgan. These pictures has just traveled across Canada, beginning at the National Gallery at Ottawa. They are mainly tempera and pastel and reveal the power, imagination and striking color-sense with which the young Indian artist is endowed.

It is interesting to note that the exhibition represents both the old and the new. Some of the lovely modern baskets in a variety of fascinating shapes and sizes, are ranged side-by-side with baskets more than 60 years old.

Some private collections and valuable specimens from the Provincial Museum are included. Among these we found many beautiful articles. There are carved ivory and black slate, story-telling sticks and some birchbark pieces. Prominent on a rear wall, is the "Chilket" blanket. Decorated with foot-long fringes and an intricate legendary design in blue, black and yellow, it is the product of a very ancient craft.

Tiny Duckling Is Unregistered Guest

There is an unregistered "guest" in the Empress Hotel grounds—a fluffy visitor new not only to the city but to the world.

A tiny, newly-hatched duckling is the centre of interest in the pond at the corner of Humboldt and Government Streets.

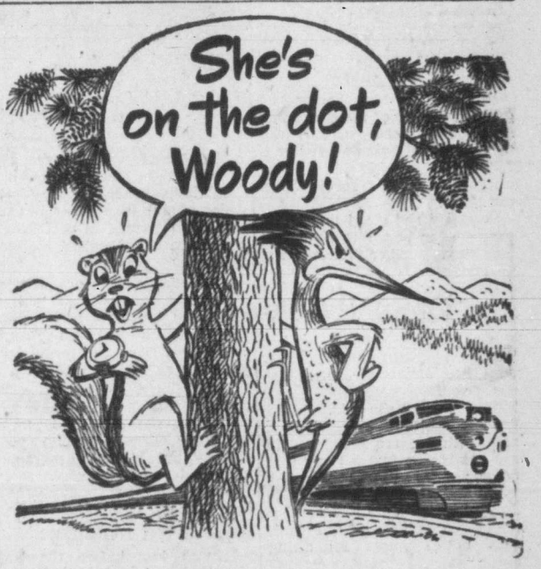
In previous years, a mother has had larger families and on more than one occasion has stopped traffic on the causeway as she walked her brood toward Beacon Hill Park.

Dad Misses Trip When Son Wanders

Lieut. A. L. Collier, R.C.N., missed the boat on a 10-day cruise up the west coast of Vancouver Island all because his son, three-year-old Bobbie, got the wander lust.

Lieut. Collier is a member of the crew of H.M.C.S. Ontario, and his young son went missing from their 1645 Oak Bay Avenue home at 10 in the morning. When the boy still was missing when the Ontario was due to sail, Lieut. Collier got permission to stay ashore to search for him.

Oak Bay police couldn't find the boy in their territory. One hundred naval cadets joined the search. They found Bobbie at 7.45 in the evening about a mile and one-half away from his home, at Five Points, Fairfield district.



Chesterton Chipmunk looked at his watch as the Shasta Daylight flashed past in all its red-and-orange glory, bound for San Francisco.

"Time to knock off, Woody," he said to Woodrow W. Woodpecker, "as usual, she's right on time!"

Yes, the wild things of the lovely Cascades can set their lives by the daily flash of the Streamliners, but it's more than dependability of schedule the Shasta Daylight gives us. It's comfort, economy, beautiful decor in colors of our own Northwest. It's companionship, good food, rest and 718 miles of glorious scenery all in one day.

Why not knock off work at home and board the Shasta Daylight for a thrilling weekend in San Francisco? Here are the bargain fares:

DOCTOR SAYS

Chronic Fatigue Cure Needs Proper Balance

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Chronic fatigue is one of the most common complaints in modern society. Nearly everyone from time to time becomes tired and loses all zest for work or play. The cause is not usually hard to find—excessive work for too long a period, lack of sleep, dietary indiscretions or some similar fault of living. The remedy lies in correcting the cause—or at least not doing it again.

This kind of fatigue, however, is not much of a problem. That tied feeling which is chronic and persistent and the cause of which cannot be easily identified is much more serious. This type of fatigue is particularly common among housewives, many of whom are constantly exceeding their strength.

The strain of children cannot be pinned down on any one event nor is it easy to remedy—after all, what can one do about it? There are other factors besides children which enter into chronic fatigue. Inability to relax or play, difficulty in getting away from the problems of every-day life, lack of sleep, a poor diet, and just plain too much to do are the most common.

Sometimes a diseased condition is at fault. A slight anemia, for example, can and does produce lack of customary energy. Any chronic infection or almost any disturbed bodily function is also likely to produce that tired feeling. Carrying too much weight, flat feet and innumerable other body conditions tend to produce excessive fatigue or to make that tired feeling worse.

Of course, if a definite disease condition can be identified, it can usually be remedied. This is the first step in combatting fatigue. Should nothing be found, then it becomes necessary to analyze and study various factors such as those mentioned.

The proper balance between work, recreation and sleep has to be worked out. Change of occupation is not often recommended because it usually is not possible. Many people need to learn how to relax when they have the chance. The adoption of a balanced diet with plenty of vitamins is beneficial when the abnormal fatigue is at least partly due to faulty diet. Stimulating drugs are dangerous and should not be used unless upon a physician's advice.

NEED CAREFUL SCHEDULE

Everything which can be remedied should be, including such factors as too much smoking, too much alcohol, poor diet and the like. In far too many cases there is little to be found and perhaps even less which can be done about it.

This is a frustrating situation and no one yet has a perfect answer. Perhaps all that can be done is to become aware of those influences which are producing a state of chronic tiredness, remedy those which one can, and be prepared to cure others as soon as circumstances allow.

Victorian On Plotting Team

Sub-Lt. Peter Campbell, left, son of H. L. Campbell, assistant superintendent of education for B.C., was a member of a plotting team aboard the Canadian cruiser Ontario tracing movements of an "enemy" destroyer during recent exercises with a U.S. Navy task force off the Hawaiian Islands. Others in the picture are PO. C. Ritchie, Calgary, and AB. Ross Hunter, Winnipeg.

Oak Bay Gives More Time For Sprinkling Gardens

Less stringent sprinkling regulations for Oak Bay have resulted from the recent installation of a 12-inch main along Foul Bay Road, Allenby Street, Henderson Road to Lansdowne Road.

A. S. G. Musgrave, municipal engineer, said sprinkling restrictions which in previous years have been imposed as early as the middle of May were not yet necessary.

He added that they will likely have to be put into effect later in the summer, however.

The high area at Lansdowne Road has always been the first to have trouble in the dry season. When one area has trouble, it becomes necessary to impose restrictions throughout Oak Bay.

Saanich engineer H. D. Dawson reports the restrictions were already in effect there. They were started early so no areas would be without water.

Victoria and Esquimalt do not anticipate trouble which would necessitate sprinkling bans.

THIEF GETS PENNIES

A total of $3 in pennies, sales tax collections, was stolen by a thief who broke into the Quadra Street Service Station, Quadra and Finlayson Streets, overnight Tuesday. Entry was gained by breaking a window on the south side of the station.

Idaho Indians Appeal Sentence

LEWISTON, Idaho (AP) — Appeal of four young Indians sentenced to maximum sentences of 14 years in the state prison for stealing a sheep last October will be heard by the Idaho State Supreme Court here Friday.

The case has attracted national attention. The Association of American Indian Affairs Inc. is aiding in the appeal. Felix Cohen, Washington, D.C., attorney, will represent the association.

The association has contended the four youths were denied their right to the "due process of law" clause of the 14th amendment to the constitution when they were sentenced Oct. 11. The appeal brief also charges that the Indians were not represented by attorneys in their probate court hearing or in the district court.

The state claims the young men were informed of their rights to counsel in the probate and district courts and waived it both times.

UNCLE RAY

There are two countries in South America which are cut off from all ocean coasts. One of these is Paraguay, an "Indian republic."

In the entire history of South America, the country which has suffered most in a war is Paraguay. Eighty-five years ago, the war started and it went on for five years. On one side was Paraguay, on the other were Brazil, Argentina and Uruguay.

The war was far from being a "fair match," and Paraguay was almost wiped out. It was estimated that five out of every six persons in the country lost their lives from arrows, bullets, disease or hunger. At the end, hardly a quarter of a million persons were left, most of them being women and children.

This was followed by a long period of peace. Slowly the people gained in number, and there was a growth in industry. Cotton was raised for export, also oranges. The herds grew until there were 5,000,000 cattle, besides many other livestock.

Another war broke out about 20 years ago. This one was against Bolivia. It was a bitter struggle, and the "prize" was the Gran Chaco. When peace was made, Paraguay's claim to the Gran Chaco was honored, and a good deal of it came inside Paraguay. Paraguay and Argentina are now the chief owners of the Gran Chaco.

Paraguay has an area almost the same as that of the state of California. The present population is about 1,300,000.

The Gran Chaco is a region near the centre of South America. Its name means "Great Wilderness." It is made up largely of forests and swamps.

In the Gran Chaco are Indians who keep apart from the rest of the world to a great extent. Among them are the Lengua tribesmen, and the warriors are known for the large bows which they carry. Sometimes these bows have a length of 9 or 10 feet!

Although they may be called "wild," the Lengua Indians weave colorful blankets. These are made of wool, and are colored with red, yellow and brown dyes.

Research 'Goblin'

This is one of the Goblin engines in the guarded, fence-enclosed wonderland known as the National Research Council's Division of Mechanical Engineering. The Goblin is the "power plant" of the Vampire-jet. Engineer Dick Quan (right) and mechanic Gerry Deland are giving this one a check-up.

ALBERTA OIL REPORT

Anglo-Canadian Strikes Gas At Turin Wildcat

CALGARY, Alta. (BUP)—A new source of gas for Alberta, where pipeline companies are seeking gas export permits, has been discoverd in the southern section of the province, industry officials announced Wednesday.

Anglo-Canadian made a strike with its Turin wildcat well 15 miles northwest of the Taber oil pool in the Lethbridge district.

The well flowed 8,000,000 and 5,000,000 cubic feet a day from the Jurassic Ellis sands on separate tests and 1,330,000 cubic feet from the Madison on another test.

Meanwhile, confidence was expressed that gas could be found along the Alberta foothills running into eastern British Columbia should the provincial government decide to allow exports.

Testifying at a gas export hearing in Calgary, Alberta geologist, Dr. S. E. Slipper, said the Jumping Pound and Pincher Creek fields in the foothills were discovered by expensive siesmograph exploration. However, there now is no market for gas and therefore no incentive to spend big money on searching for further foothills fields.

Turning to oil, a new wildcat is expected to spud in at the Stettler field. The well is California Standard Stettler Province 11-28. It brings to six the number of wildcats in progress or being readied in the field.

The industry also reported Continental Oil Company hit oil in the D-2 zone of its Leduc No. 24 in southwestern Leduc.

At Redwater, Imperial Oil scored with its 202nd and 203rd wells, bringing the field's total to 455.

It was also announced that Dr. A. W. Nauss, formerly chief geologist of Pacific Petroleums, resigned to join Dr. T. A. Link in a consulting partnership. They will specialize in evaluation of oil properties and interpretation of geophysical data.

MARKET REVIEW

Industrials Still Gain At Toronto

TORONTO—Industrial stocks bouriced up from opening easiness to chalk up a third successive session of advance into new high ground on the Toronto Stock Exchange. Several base metal stocks also featured the brisk dealings.

MONTREAL—Stocks showed a mixed tone in moderate trading near the final hour on the Montreal Stock Exchange and Curb Market. Gains and losses ranged from small fractions to about a point.

NEW YORK—The stock market here sailed through choppy trading waters.

Quotations for leading issues bounced around erratically and trading was done in fits and starts.

More Shipping Promised Here During June

Lower island longshoremen were assured today of a heavier volume of work than usual during June.

Ken Briggs of King Bros., shipping agents, said at least 26 ships will call at Victoria and Cowichan Bay this month.

Stevedores from this city usually work Cowichan Bay as well.

During the past two weeks there has been a continuous stream of freighters at Ogden Point and at the up-island bay.

The Panamanian ship Fenix arrived at Ogden Point today and is loading 900,000 feet of lumber for Britain. Also loading at this port is another vessel flying the Panamanian flag, the Nadia. She is expected to proceed to Port Alberni to complete for sea later today, en route to the U.S. Atlantic seaboard.

The British ship Brazilian Prince is taking on lumber for Britain at Cowichan Bay. She moved from Ogden Point Wednesday night after loading 330,000 board feet and took the berth vacated by another British vessel, the Kedros, which left for sea.

The Panamanian freighter Pacific Ocean is expected at Ogden Point Friday for 944,000 feet of lumber for the east coast of the United States.

First Shipment Bing Cherries Arrives Here

The first Bing cherries of the season arrived in Victoria today from California. They are selling at 70 to 80 cents a pound at the larger retail stores. A shipment of California strawberries reached Victoria this week. Local berries are not expected for at least two weeks.

Small shipments of canteloupes are reaching Victoria daily. Prices are going down gradually.

The first carload of watermelons to reach the city since restrictions were put on two years ago, are expected in this week. Small shipments have already been received.

A carload of new potatoes came in today from California. Local potatoes are not expected until July 1, about two to three weeks later than most years.

A shipment of Beauty plums arirved this week from California. Bananas, which have been scarce, are increasing in shipments.

Local growers are supplying all the city's cauliflower, along with hothouse cucumbers and tomatoes at the present time.

More Than At Home

EDINBURGH (CP) — Tom Johnston, president of the Tourist Association of Scotland, told a meeting here that more than 20,000,000 persons overseas claim Scottish birth or ancestry. Some 2,000,000 of them are in Canada.

We recently offered several N.H.A. built homes in this popular district with down payments of approximately $1,600. These were sold immediately. We have now acquired three additional N.H.A. approved lots in this district and are planning to build FOUR and ONE-HALF-ROOM BUNGALOWS WITH FULL BASEMENTS. The fair and reasonable price of one of our approved plans of 923 square feet is:

with separate garage to match house $7700

with fireproof basement garage $7550

No garage $7300

Completion of these homes is expected in approximately three to four months. (The last one was completed in 2½ months.)

If you speak for one of these homes now it will be painted and plastered to your wishes.

Mayhew Won't Be Lt.-Gov.

Fisheries Minister Robert Mayhew of Victoria has denied reports he has been asked to be the next lieutenant-governor of B.C.

Mr. Mayhew, on arrival in Vancouver from a three-week visit to Australia and New Zealand, said: "I have never been asked and I am not going to be lieutenant-governor."

Little Progress On Secession Move By Cadboro Area

Possibility of the former Saanich Ward Three joining Oak Bay is still just that—a possibility.

Little of a definite nature was reported to have taken place at a meeting Wednesday night between Oak Bay Council and nine members of the Cadboro Bay and Gordon Head Ratepayers' Association, on the question.

Reeve P. A. Gibbs, who, the meeting decided, will handle all publicity connected with negotiations, said there had been a "neighborly meeting, but nothing conclusive came out of it."

He said another meeting likely will be called within 10 days after certain assessment data had been gathered.

The ratepayers have requested access to Saanich assessment rolls to determine the assessment in the area, a necessary preliminary to any petitoion for secession.

'Let George Do It,' Mayor Percy Jokes

Names of Vancouver Island mayors lend themselves to quips, according to Mayor Percy George.

Speaking at the Municipal Officers' conference today, he said he had received the following anonymously:

Victoria—"Let George do it."

Esquimalt — "A Doubting Thomas.

Saanich—"Casey at the bat."

Nanaimo: "So dead it's in the hands of the undertaker." (The present mayor is an embalmer by profession.)

Expect Arthritis Quota To Be Reached

With approximately $1,000 to be added from various business firms and collections from outlying areas, the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society's $12,000 quota in the Greater Victoria area is expected to be reached.

Eric Wainwright, campaign chairman, said today approximately $8,700 had been tallied during the month of May.

Injured Children Slightly Improved

A slight improvement was reported by Jubilee Hospital attendents today in the condition of Alan Barber, 12-year-old visitor from Oxbridge, Ont., and Darlene Sims, nine, 626 Bryden Court, who sustained dangerous skull injuries in separate accidents earlier this week. The report was: "They are responding slightly to treatment."

Woman, 90, In Hospital After Fall

Ninety-year-old Mrs. J. M. Skidmore, Old Ladies' Home, is in St. Joseph's Hospital to be X-rayed for injuries received when she slipped and fell on the sidewalk at Burdett Avenue and Blanshard Streets this morning.

$40 FINE IN CRASH

Pleading guilty to a charge of careless driving arising from a May 24 accident, Miss N. Roy, Manitoba visitor, was fined $40 by Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court today.

Her car was in collision with a truck driven by Cecil Fletcher, 956 Fairfield Road, at the Quadra-Fort intersection. The Fletcher truck was overturned by the impact. Total damage to vehicles was estimated at close to $500.

Notice to Contractors

Tenders are invited for the construction of a residence for the Superintendent at the Aged Men's Home of the City of Victoria.

Plans and specifications may be inspected at the office of the Architects, Birley, Wade & Stockdill, 1020 Government St., Victoria, B.C. and contractors wishing to submit tenders may obtain copies from the Architects.

Tenders should be accompanied by a certified cheque amounting to 5% of the tender.

Tenders should be addressed to the undersigned, in care of the Architects, and delivered to the office of the Architects not later than 12 noon on Thursday, June 15th, 1950.

The lowest or any tender will not necessarily be accepted.

Three Crewmen Die In Bomber Crack-Up

North Bay Gas, Oil Depot Burns

Gasoline and naphtha drums burst into flame and hurtled through the air Tuesday when fire raged through the Imperial Oil Company's storage depot on shore of Lake Nipissing at North Bay. A freight train was blocked by the flames and had to stand on tracks about a mile from city. Road blocks were set up, all available fire-fighting equipment was used.

Parachutes Save Four Before B-29 Crashes

ROSWELL, N.M. (AP)—Three crew members of a U.S. Air Force B-29 were killed today and four others parachuted to safety when the bomber crashed about 25 miles south of here.

"It was the awfullest ball of fire I ever hope to see," reported Fred Barnes, a farmer who lives about 10 miles from the scene of the crash.

"The plane went straight down, nose first. It wasn't even spinning. When it hit it seemed to bounce several hundred feet into the air.

The plane was based at Walker Air Force Base at Roswell. Base spokesman said they are preparing a list of survivors and notifying kin of the dead.

The plane was on a test flight.

SAYS OUTLOOK FOR PEACE NOW BEST IN FIVE YEARS

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman said today the world is closer to peace now than it has been for the last five years.

Mr. Truman made that observation at a press conference.

It followed a reporter's mention that a recent Gallup Poll reported a majority of the American people expect war in the next five years.

Mr. Truman said he didn't agree with that at all.

Then he added that he feels we are closer to peace than we have been in the past five years.

HINT DOUK PRISON IN NORTHERN CAMP

Hundreds Of Lawbreakers May Be Sent To Abandoned Mine Town At Pinchi Lake

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Sun says today in a newspaper story that the Pinchi Lake property, an abandoned mining camp in north-central British Columbia, may become a prison for hundreds of law-breaking Doukhobors.

"The federal ministry of justice," the Sun says, "has contacted the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company Ltd. with a view of obtaining use of the Pinchi Lake property."

The company is reported willing to hand the property over to the government, the story says, but official word must come from the department of justice.

The property, developed during the war for mercury deposits but abandoned soon after hostilities ceased, has accommodations for up to 400 persons. It includes staff houses, bunk houses, washrooms and kitchens.

Hundreds of Doukhobors have been arrested in recent disturbances in B.C.'s interior. Some are housed in Oakalla prison farm near Vancouver and others in temporary jails at Grand Forks, B.C.

During Doukhobor riots of the depression years the rampaging Sons of Freedom were imprisoned on Piers Island off Vancouver Island. Accommodations there have fallen into ruin.

Another Czech Pleads Guilty

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (UP)—Dr. Josef Nestaval, accused co-leader of 13 Czechs charged with plotting the overthrow of the Communist regime, pleaded guilty today on charges of espionage for the United States.

Nestaval was the second defendant to plead "fully guilty" to all charges against him in the mass treason trial now under way in Prague's Pankrac prison.

Dr. Milada Horakova, a female former parliamentary deputy and alleged co-leader of the plot, pleaded guilty Wednesday shortly after the trial opened.

Twenty western diplomats and newspaper correspondents, including former U.S. Ambassador Laurence Steinhardt and former French Ambassador Maurice Dejean, have been named in the indictment as directors or collaborators in the alleged plan for an armed revolt.

Irish Jimmy Nolan Will Invade England

CALGARY (CP)—Irish Jimmy Nolan of Calgary, Western Canada welterweight boxing champion, has left for the United Kingdom where he plans to fight several contenders for the British Empire welterweight crown.

Nolan, who has knocked out all but seven of his 33 opponents since he turned professional three and a half years ago, also hopes to get a shot at the Empire title, now held by Eddie Thomas of Wales.

The Calgarian will return in the fall to defend his title. Leading contenders are Phil Palmer of Vancouver and Al Marotti of Edmonton.

Meeting Set To Plan Cruiser Race

EVERETT, Wash. (AP)—Delegates from the 17 yacht clubs affiliated with the International Power Boat Association will meet in Seattle Saturday to complete rules for the international cruiser race.

The race will be run from Everett to Victoria July 28 and 29.

Water Limits Lifted For New Yorkers

NEW YORK (UP)—Water restrictions were eased today for the first time in approximately nine months.

The water department relaxed restrictions on the use of water in swimming pools, for lawn sprinkling, and for hig pressure hoses, effective June 15, for a 30-day period.

Water Commissioner Stephen J. Carney said the volunteer water-saving campaign, which began in October, was "so great and so successful that we feel at this time we can relax these restrictions for this period of time and hope savings will continue."

Indianapolis Car Racers Divide $201,035 Prizes

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Race car owners and drivers divided up a record $201,035 in prizes today from the fastest—and the shortest—race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

"Boy, I never had it so good," crowed Johnny Parsons, pocketing the $57,458 top prize.

The handsome Van Nuys, Calif., racer won't keep it all, but drivers of his kind usually get around 35 per cent. Every driver's take is a private deal between him and his car owner.

The prize distribution from T. E. (Pop) Myers, speedway vice-president, got no more than grudging acceptance from one car owner—Ervin Wolfe, Tulsa, Okla. The $8,788 which Joie Chitwood and his relief driver, Tony Bettenhausen, collected for fifth place was about $13,810 less than Wolfe thought it should be.

Unofficial results announced at the end of the race Tuesday gave the Wolfe special second place. A check of the tape and charts pushed the car down to fifth, and Bill Holland, Miami, claimed the $21,898 second prize.

U.S. Navy Escort Ships To Holland

BOSTON (AP)—The destroyer escorts U.S.S. Burows and U.S.S. Rinehart were formally delivered to the Netherlands government today and commissioned as units of the Royal Netherlands navy.

The vessels were the first warships transferred to a foreign government under the terms of the mutual defence assistance program. The ceremony took place at the Boston Navy Yard.

Ted Williams Asks Transfer Writer Claims

NEW YORK (AP) — Jimmy Cannon, sports columnist of the New York Post, said today in a copyright column that Ted Williams, baseball's highest paid player, intends to ask the Boston Red Sox to trade him, preferably to the Detroit Tigers.

"Boston's hostile and abusive baseball fanatics probably have succeeded in running Ted Williams out of town," Cannon wrote.

"It is his hope that this is his last year with the Red Sox. At the end of season, I can exclusively and positively report today, Williams intends to ask the Red Sox to trade him. His choice is Detroit. Only Detroit, Cleveland, and the Yankees could afford to employ him."

Fred Corcoran, Williams' business manager, said Williams had said nothing to him about a desire to be traded and as far as he knew there was "nothing to it."

Williams reputedly receives $125,000 annually from the Red Sox, the biggest sum ever paid a baseball player.

25 Rescued From Gassed Apartment

WINNIPEG (CP)—Twenty-five persons today were led from a west-end apartment block after gas fumes from a broken refrigeration pipe spread through the building.

Rescue crews brought out several tenants partially overcome by fumes. One person was admitted to hospital.

William Watkins, caretaker of the Royal Crescent Apartments in the swank Wellington Crescent district, said he was starting the refrigeration motor when a copper line blew off the cylinder head.

Crippled Boy Acquitted In Father's Death

CORNWALL, Ont. (CP)—Fifteen-year-old Maurice Leger was acquitted today of manslaughter in the fatal stabbing of his father.

The crippled youth surrendered to police soon after the father, 37-year-old Morris Leger, a papermill worker, was slain last April 15.

The case was heard by a juvenile court judge, without jury.

The boy's mother related details of the domestic quarrel which led to the stabbing.

"The boy sat down at the table and his father got up off the couch and went over to him," said Mrs. Leger. "He started fooling with him at first, grabbing him by the neck and wrestling with him. Then he started hitting the boy in the face."

Roger Leger, 10, brother of the accused, said he witnessed the fight and saw his brother grab a butcher knife from the table when his father lunged at him.

Famed Poet Sued By Third Wife In Marriage Mixup

NEW YORK (UP)—Poet Louis Untermeyer, five times married to four women, faced two of them in court today in a suit that may bring rhyme and reason to his tangled marital life.

With his present wife and at least two of his ex-wives to choose from, the Brooklyn bard left it up to a judge to decide who will reign as mistress of his household and inherit his sizeable fortune when he dies.

"It's all very perplexing," Untermeyer said in testimony as a witness in a state Supreme Court suit brought by Mrs. Esther Untermeyer, the third in his string of spouses.

Esther charges that Untermeyer obtained an illegal Mexican divorce from her in 1948 and therefore she, not the present Mrs. Bryna Ivens Untermeyer, is his legal wife.

FOUR STAR FINAL

Make Plans To End Gambling In Toronto

TORONTO (CP) — Premier Frost of Ontario and members of the Toronto Police Commission sat down together late today to draft a "get tough" policy on gambling in the city and elsewhere in Ontario.

The meeting was on outcome of Mayor Hiram McCallum's revelation Tuesday that six gambling syndicates are operating in Toronto and that there are more than 2,000 places here at which bets can be placed.

The police commission went to the Legislative Buildings upon invitation from Premier Frost, after the Premier had challenged the mayor to name social clubs in the Toronto area that house illegal gambling.

Not Sub, But Whale

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Several persons from Oceano, on the central California coast, reported they had sighted a "long, cigar-shaped submarine with no superstructure."

The navy investigated and announced today:

"It was undoubtedly a whale."

Union Official Shot

CHICAGO (AP)—A local officer of the A.F.L. Teamsters' Union was shot and seriously beaten early today in his garage, and a police captain said the attack probably resulted from labor trouble. The victim was Louis F. Peick, 38, assistant secretary-treasurer of local 705 of the Truck Drivers' and Chauffeurs' Union.

Weather Forecast

Clear today and Friday; a few fog patches along the shoreline tonight and early Friday morning; a little warmer. Light winds. Low tonight, 48; high tomorrow, 70.

REID CALLS IT TERRIFYING

Senator Criticizes Big Rise In Cost Of Canada's Civil Service

OTTAWA (CP)—A rise in civil service salaries from $77,101,774 in 1938-39 to $313,203,874 in 1950-51 was questioned today by Senator Thomas Reid (L.-British Columbia)) in the Senate's standing committee on finance.

"This is a terrifying increase," Senator Reid said during discussion of finance department estimates.

He asked R. B. Bryce, assistant deputy minister of finance, how salary costs would be affected by the proposed adoption of a five-day week for civil servants.

"If a five-day week can be operated and the same amount of work done as before the civil service must have lots of staff," he commented. "Does the government even consider reducing its staff—or does it adopt a once-hired, never-fired policy?"

Mr. Bryce replied that the treasury board continually reviewed the number of civil servants according to the need, "not only when estimates are under review but throughout the year."

The finance department, he said, periodically prepared for the treasury board an analysis of where civil servants are employed and how their services are used.
